DEMOCRATS NOMINATE OFFICERS.

Convention at Marshfield Passes Off with the Utmost Harmony.

At the democratic convention held at Marshfield last Thursday the following county ticket was nominated by the delegates present:

Member of Assembly—W. H. Carey of Grand Rapids.

Sheriff—Julius Welch of Marshfield.

County Clerk—Frank Lenschen of Lincoln.

Register of Deeds—M. G. Fleckenstein of Marshfield.

Clerk of Court—Charles S. Whittlesey of Grand Rapids.

District Attorney—W. E. Wheelan of Grand Rapids.

Surveyor—Wm. Corcoran of Grand Rapids.

Coroner—John R. Jarvis of Port Edwards.

In the absence of County Chairman L. M. Nash, the county convention was called to order by Secretary H. E. Fitch. Matt Schlig read a letter from Mr. Nash in which he stated that it was impossible for him to be present at the convention and regretting the fact that he could not do so, also wishing the party success in their efforts.

A. E. Gorner was elected as temporary chairman of the convention and H. E. Fitch as temporary secretary. The chair appointed as a committee on credentials Messrs. D. D. Conway, E. C. Pors and Thomas Kelley. D. D. Conway was then elected chairman of the county Committee and H. E. Fitch as secretary. A recess was then taken for the purpose of allowing the committee on credentials to act and they reported the following as being eligible to seats in the convention.

Henry Loelmer of Arpin, J. W. Fitch of Granmoor, James K. P. Hiles of Dexter, W. H. Reeves, Nic. Reiland, Will Gross, Ed Wheelan, Jos. Lucaschesk, Math. Schlig, John Bell and G. W. Mason of Grand Rapids, John Herron of the town of Grand Rapids, J. Reusch of Hanson, E. P. Scheibe, James Tallant, Anton Schmidt, John Brackendorf, E. C. Pors, Charles Hahn, F. H. Wendt, Matt Wright, and Peter J. Specht of Marshfield, F. X. Durstand Frank Kuntzer of the town of Marshfield, G. L. B. Roundsville and A. C. Berard of the town of Millladore, Sigfried Ree and H. Van Roth of Nekoosa, Thomas Hale and L. E. Colvin of the city of Pittsville, Casper Gurtler of the town of Port Edwards, John R. Jarvis of Port Edwards village, Thomas Kelly of Remington, D. D. Conway of Rudolph, M. Matthews of Saratoga, J. Kissinger and S. Green of Sigel.

After this work had been accomplished it was after twelve o'clock, and it was thought best to take an adjournment until evening. The fair was in progress, and many of the delegates wished to attend and by assembling again at seven o'clock it would be possible to accomplish all the business of the convention before the train left. This matter was voted on and the convention adjourned until seven in the evening.

Upon meeting again in the evening the ticket as named above was nominated. Addresses were made by Wells M. Raggles, candidate for congress and Dr. H. A. Lathrop, candidate for lieutenant governor. Both of these gentlemen are good talkers and were listened to with the utmost attention by those present.

The officers of the county committee are D. D. Conway, chairman; H. E. Fitch, secretary, and A. G. Pankow, treasurer.

The ticket nominated is considered a good one. None of the men are professional politicians nor habitual office seekers, and this will be more to their advantage than otherwise. They are all good clean men and will make the people a good set of officers.

A Good Show.

The play of "Why Women Sin" at the opera house last Saturday evening was a good one and the audience was well pleased with the manner in which it was handled. There wasn't a dub in the whole crowd, and while parts of it were extremely tragic, there were also spots of wit and humor to relieve the intensity of the action.

Last Band Concert.

Should the weather be favorable the last band concert of the season will be given on Wednesday evening on the west side. The uncertainty of the weather at this time of the year makes it very unpleasant for the band boys to get out.

LOCALS WIN THE GAME.

THE TOMAH INDIANS BEATEN 12 TO 6.

A Good Crowd in Attendance and a Good Game is the Result.

The game of football on Saturday between the local highschool team and the Tomah Indians was a victory for our boys, the score standing 6 to 12 at the end of the game. The general opinion was, however, that the Tomah boys played a little better game than the locals, but lost the game on account of two plays, when touchdowns were made by our boys by long runs. One of these was in the first half, when McDonald carried the pigskin over the goal line from nearly the entire length of the field, and again in the second half, when Nimtz made a dash of fifty yards and scored another touchdown. Both men were favored with good interference from the remainder of the team. Goal was kicked both times, giving the locals 12 points. The 6 points of the Tomah's were won by hard and steady work, end runs and bucking the line, and at this work they seemed to have rather the advantage of our boys.

At the start in, Tomah kicked off. Grand Rapids took the ball and started down the line on a canter, but were headed off before much progress had been made, and Tomah took the ball on downs. Then Tomah made several small advances and got the ball very close to the goal line, and it looked as if the Indians were going to make the first count. But at this juncture they were penalized 10 yards for making an off side play, and before the distance could be made up the local team had secured the ball on downs with it only ten yards from the goal line. Then the locals made a slight advance when Tomah got the ball on a fumble. This looked bad, as the red men were still dangerously near the goal line. However, before much of an advance had been made, the Indians made a fumble and Grand Rapids again took the ball.

It was here that McDonald made his famous run. The ball had been put into play and a Grand Rapids boy started down the field with it when he was downed. As he fell he passed it to McDonald, who tucked the Pigskin under his arm and started for the goal line on a ten second clip. Several of the Tomah's made a pass at him but the interference was good and McDonald rapidly drew ahead of his pursuers until he had the field all to himself and it was a straight race for the goal. He made it in a canter and the crowd went wild with enthusiasm. From a score by the Indians it had suddenly changed to a touchdown for the locals, and the spectators were ready to do anything for the hero of the hour. Goal was kicked and the score stood 6 to 0.

Then Tomah kicked off and Grand Rapids took the ball. They advanced it about ten yards when they lost it on a fumble. Tomah took it and advanced steadly toward the goal line. It looked like a touchdown for the redmen. They were within three yards of the goal line and as the ball went into play again and the men piled up, part of them over the line, the spectators held their breath until they saw where the ball lay. It was less than a yard from the line and the Indians were playing fast and strong. As the signals were being given out for another play time was called for the end of the first half, and thus the visitors were prevented from tying the score. It had been a hard fight with the strength a trifle in favor of the Indians.

Grand Rapids kicked off at the beginning of the second half and Tomah took the ball. They were unable to make any gain, however, and punted. The ball was caught near the goal by the locals and before they could make any advance the visitors got the ball on a fumble. They were held for downs, however, and Grand Rapids took the ball again. The ball was carried up near the center of the field when Nimtz succeeded in getting around the end and carried the ball over the line for a touchdown, making a run of about 45 yards. Goal was kicked and the score stood 12 to 0 in favor of the locals.

Then Tomah kicked off and the locals took the ball and made good advance, but were finally held and Tomah took the ball on downs. The Indians gained about 15 yards when the locals again got the ball on a fumble, but lost it again on a fumble before it had been advanced any and when the red men got hold of the ball, they seemed determined to do or die. They made steady advance until the ball was carried over the line. Goal was kicked and it stood 12 to 6.

Then Grand Rapids kicked off, but Tomah soon lost the ball on a fumble. Then the locals fumbled and the visitors again took the ball. The Indians were making some goods gains around the end when time was called and the game ended with the score standing 12 to 6.

It was a good game and the locals won against superior weight and better team work of the visitors. The visitors had put up a good game and took their defeat smilingly. It was a game like everybody enjoys, being devoid of kicking and dirty playing. The lineup was as follows:

FAIR A SUCCESS.

Marshfield People to be Congratulated on Their Enterprise.

All of our citizens who visited the fair at Marshfield are unanimous in pronouncing it a great success. The one thing that was in any way against the affair on Thursday was the condition of the race track, which was a trifle heavy, but a gang of men were kept at work on it, and by three o'clock it was got in good enough shape so that two of the races were held without any difficulty.

There was an immense crowd in attendance on Thursday, it being estimated that there was between six and eight thousand people on the grounds. The grand stand was filled to overflowing, besides which the grounds were fairly crowded with people. The management had secured a number of good attractions of the sideshow order, which were liberally patronized. There were good displays of vegetables, cattle, and other things usually found at an institution of this sort, all of which attracted a great deal of interest.

It was evident that the management of the fair have been doing some tall hustling, both in the way of advertising and securing exhibits. One noticable feature to the visitor was the display of gasoline engines on the grounds, of which there were a large number of different makes, all in operation. It illustrates how largely the engine is entering into the performance of farm work, a thing that a few years ago was not thought of. The people of Marshfield are to be congratulated on their fair, and while there were some two hundred attended from this city and vicinity, this is not half the number that should have been there from this end of the county. It takes time, however, to get the people to realize a good thing, and there is no question but what larger crowds will visit each succeeding exhibition if the quality is kept up to the high standard of the last one.

Governor La Follette.

Governor La Follette made a speech at the opera house at 10 o'clock Thursday morning and there was a large crowd in attendance to hear him. The governor is certainly a spellbinder from away up the creek and it is doubtful if there is another man in the state who can put up a better game of talk. Some of the half-breeds admit, however, that he makes it a little strong at times and that the same results could be accomplished if the case were put before the people in a less impassioned manner. The governor puts in the greater part of his time in ripping the stalwarts up the back, and has little or nothing to say about the democrats. It is evident that he is looking for democratic votes wherever it is possible to get them. From here the governor went to Marshfield, where he spoke at the fair in the afternoon and at three halls during the evening, making five speeches during the day. He was greeted by large crowds at each place and while everybody present did not believe in his tirades against his enemies, he was received with cordiality and treated with respect.

Coming Amusement.

On Thursday, October 27th the first of a series of entertainments by the Slayton Lyceum Bureau will be given at the opera house. Rev. Francis T. Moran will be the entertainer on that evening when he will deliver one of his lectures. His reputation as a lecturer is such that he needs no recommendation in these columns, and there is no question but what those who hear him will be pleased and instructed with his lecture.

There are six other entertainments besides the lecture by Father Moran, and they include W. J. Bryan, Wilford Cluro, Jubilee Singers, The Dunbar company, Germaine, the Magician and others, all of which make up a very popular course. Tickets for the entire course are selling for $1.25, which is exceedingly cheap considering the high class of entertainments.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance, can be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. STALWARTS NOT IN IT.

HALF-BREEDS RULE THE ROOST.

The Marshfield Convention Run by the Governor's Best Man.

It was a chilly day for the stalwart contingent that repaired to Marshfield Tuesday to the Marshfield convention. It had looked like snow all the morning, but when the convention was called to order the stalwarts knew that it was going to be a regular threshout. And the result showed that they were not mistaken in their prognostication.

The convention was called to order at the appointed time on the afternoon, at which time H. Wippermann of this city was elected chairman, and Reuben Connet secretary. A committee on credentials was appointed and a recess taken to allow them to perform their work. When they came to the town of Marshfield it was found that some of the democrats had held a conference and that there were two sets of delegates seeking for seats in the convention. This was no stumper for the committee, however. They quickly resolved themselves in to a court of inquiry and after taking testimony and due deliberation, the "regular" delegate was given the seat.

The nomination of officers was put off until evening, when the convention again assembled at the city hall prepared to do their work. The committee on resolutions made a report in which they heartily endorsed the policy of President Roosevelt, also the "economical" administration of Robert M. LaFollette. They evidently entirely forgot the road work done by the governor's game warden and oil inspectors, for they were not mentioned at all. Whether this was an oversight or a direct cut, cannot be told at this writing.

The convention then proceeded to the nomination of a member of assembly. The name of E. E. Winch was brought before the convention, and as there was no opposition the secretary was instructed to cast a ballot for Mr. Winch. The gentleman was then called upon for a speech, and he replied in a very few words, thanking those present for the honor conferred, etc.

Then came the matter of nominating a sheriff. There were four candidates put in nomination for this office, they being W. E. Little, Chas. Lester and James McLaughlin of the city and Geo. W. Brown of Pittsville. The first ballot stood as follows: Little 29, Brown 15, Lester 2, McLaughlin 5. Second ballot: Little 20, Brown 15, Lester 8, McLaughlin 3. Third ballot: Little 22, Brown 10, Lester 7, McLaughlin 4. Fourth ballot: Little 21, Brown 13, Lester 6, McLaughlin 5. Fifth Ballot: Little 20, Brown 16, Lester 2, McLaughlin 5 and Brooks 1, the latter gentleman having been nominated by Mr. Forbes of Port Edwards in the hope of breaking the existing deadlock. Sixth ballot: Little 22, Brown 16, McLaughlin 4, Brooks 6. Seventh Ballot: Little 20, Brown 15, Brooks 6, McLaughlin 5, Lester 1. At this juncture Mr. Brown came before the convention and withdrew his name as a candidate. The eighth ballot resulted as follows: Little 21, Brooks 9 and McLaughlin 5. Mr. Little having a majority of the ballots cast he was declared the nominee of the convention. The nomination of a sheriff had taken some time, as several of the ballots had to be thrown out owing to either to some one in the convention having voted more than once or the tellers seeing double.

Worcester, Mass., special: George Frisbie Hoar, senior United States senator from Massachusetts, died at his home in this city at 1:35 o'clock Friday morning, aged 78 years. The end followed a period of unconsciousness that had continued since early Tuesday, and came so gently that only the attending physicians were aware of the exact moment of dissolution.

The attending physicians despaired of the senator's life six weeks ago, but such was the vitality exhibited by the patient that even they were surprised and the public was at times led to cherish a faith in an ultimate recovery.

On Sept. 25, however, all hope was abandoned after a last unsuccessful attempt to administer medicine and nourishment. Brief lucid intervals were followed by longer durations of unconsciousness until Tuesday morning, when the venerable statesman sank into a state of coma from which all efforts to rouse him proved futile.

There were present at the bedside when death came the senator's son, Gen. Rockwood Hoar; his daughter, Mary Hoar, and Dr. Warren R. Gilman, who for weeks has been in almost constant attendance upon the senator.

Senator Hoar had been in ill health since last winter, and even when attending the sessions of the senate he was obliged to exercise extreme care lest his exertions should overcome him. At that time he was troubled with lumbago, and the death of his wife in Washington proved such a blow that he never recovered entirely from its effects.

Yale Society Gets Money for Missionaries' Death in China.

New Haven, Conn., special: Yale university has received $17,000 in gold from the British government, to be placed to the credit of the Yale foreign mission, which is located in Changsha, China. The missionary society to which the murdered missionaries belonged refused as a matter of principle to accept a cash gift as payment for the murder. The Chinese government declined to take back the gift. The British government, to which the sum had been paid over, had no claim on it. A number of English missionary societies refused to take the money, which now goes to the Yale Missionary society.

SECRETARY SHAW CHANGES LABELS

Modifies His Previous Order in Regard to Stamp on Imported Cigars.

NEW ISSUE ON BOX BOTTOMS

Domestic Trade to Be Protected by Placing the Stamp Out of Sight, the Color Being Made Less Conspicuous.

Washington dispatch: Secretary of the Treasury Shaw has reached a decision in the cigar customs stamp case, which was taken up on account of the complaint of the American Tobacco company and other big importers of foreign cigars, who claimed that the recent order abolishing the prominent green stamps injured their business. The decision has not been made public, but it is understood to be in the way of a compromise.

The original order abolishing the big green stamps on the faces of the boxes was made because of representations of manufacturers of domestic cigars to the effect that the importers were using the stamp as a trademark and that the government was being used to foist the business of these importers to the detriment of home industry. The resulting order substituted a brown stamp, which was to be pasted out of sight on the bottom of the boxes.

Shaw Makes Statement.

The change brought forth a great cry from the importers, who claimed that the government was injuring their business to an unwarranted extent. Secretary Shaw, while declining to make public the new order, gave out a statement concerning the case.

"The testimony establishes the fact," he said, "that the present stamp is used as a trademark by the cigar importers; that this trademark is valuable to them and confers an advantage upon them as against the manufacturers of cigars in the United States, and that cigars are, in effect, the only commodity imported into the United States that receives the benefit of such a trademark.

Stamp Gives Advantage.

"In view of the fact that this government stamp, in its present form, undoubtedly gives a pecuniary advantage to those using it, it seems that the order already issued by the department is, in its essence, proper. The government's business is to collect the revenue and to provide so far as possible against fraud, but it is not the government's business to furnish a guaranty in the form of a trade-mark for the benefit of the goods. This should be left in the tobacco business exactly as it is in all other business.

"The result of the decision will protect the domestic manufacturer from a customs stamp, available as an advertisement, and it protects the importer also by giving him a stamp of a distinctive color, which can be seen by the purchaser if he cares to make examination."

Will Make New Plates.

The secretary has given orders that new plates be prepared for printing the stamps and for placing upon the boxes of imported cigars, in accordance with this decision.

While the secretary was away from Washington Acting Secretary Taylor conducted a complete hearing, taking the testimony of both sides. Reports of these proceedings were forwarded to Secretary Shaw. On his return he took up the case and after a consultation with the president rendered his decision.

GIVES DEFIANCE TO THE UNIONS

United States Steel Corporation Ready to Fight Sympathetic Strikes.

New York special: The threat of President A. C. Dinkey of the Carnegie Steel company, to the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Tin and Steel Workers to wage war everywhere on the union if sympathetic strikes are declared is being backed up by the United States Steel corporation. There is good ground for the statement that the corporation decided several months ago on warfare against the union if it undertook to interfere with the corporation's management of its properties. In the sheet steel and tin plate mills and the hoop mills of the corporation the union plants are in a minority. All the union steel workers could quit, and the corporation would still be able to control its output.

CHARGE ARSON AND ROBBERY

Indiana Couple Said to Have Burned Home to Cover Evidence of Crime.

YOUNG RUSSIAN LOSES RUBLES

Regains His Golden Treasure When He Locates His County People, to Whose Care He Had Confided His Wealth.

Miller's Station, Ind., dispatch: Greed of gold and a woman's curiosity are said to have caused John Holestak and his wife to be arrested and bound over to the Lake county circuit court for trial under charges of arson and grand larceny.

And they have been brought to justice by the shrewd work of the man they are said to have deceived and robbed, Josef Liwonowsich, a young countryman of their own from far away Russia.

Some time ago young Liwonowsich, the son of wealthy parents in Russia, reached Miller's Station and found a home with the Holestaks. He could speak no English and their mother tongue soon drew them to him. He told them he was in America to "see things" and from the manner in which he kept watch upon the little black iron trunk he carried with him gave rise to belief that he was some Russian nobleman travelling incognito and having with him an enormous amount of money.

Goes on a Visit.

Recently their boarder said he was obliged to visit Hammond and Chicago, and that he would trust his possessions in their care until he returned.

Holestak and his wife could hardly retain their composure, as their boarder told them that in the trunk was more than 10,000 nice, new golden rubles, together with family heirlooms and jewelry.

Now he claims they opened the trunk and fired the house in order to destroy the evidence of their guilt, and then they found another home at Etna, a small village a few miles from their former place.

Building in Flames.

The home at Miller's Station burned Sept. 16, just as Chicago detectives reached there in search of the hold-up bandits said to be near that point. Detectives and natives fought the flames, but without avail. The fire seemed to come from the room occupied by Liwonowsich in the second story of the building, and where he said no stove existed. A plain case of arson—so thought the young foreigner, who immediately set out to find his late host and hostess.

He found them finally and met with a chilling reception. They were very sorry their home had burned, did not know how it happened, and when Liwonowsich asked them how an iron trunk could be burned to nothing, they were so confused that his suspicion rose to their guilt was increased. He had them arrested and found his fortune.

Justice Mathews of Hobart bound Holestak and his wife over to court under charges of arson and grand larceny.

The young Russian is as proud of his detective work as in the recovery of his Russian rubles and heirlooms.

AS THE WORLD REVOLVES

HERO OF SCIENCE DEAD.

Late Dr. Finsen, One of the World's Greatest Benefactors.

Dr. Niels R. Finsen, who has just died at Copenhagen, deserves to rank among the great heroes, as well as among the great benefactors of modern times.

The healing power of light had been recognized in a general way, by the medical profession long before his time, but little practical use had been made of it. When Dr. Finsen was a young student in Copenhagen university he began a series of investigations to discover to what properties of light its curative influence was owing. He was naturally of frail constitution, and excessive exertion broke down his health. Nevertheless, with indomitable perseverance he continued his work in the cold, hu-mid climate of Copenhagen. His efforts were at last rewarded with the important discovery that part of the rays of the sun's spectrum destroy bacteria, while others possess the healing nature which physicians had long ascribed to the ray of light as a whole.

The first successful test of Dr. Finsen's important theory was made at Copenhagen in 1893, when he cured many cases of smallpox, and even saved the patients from being scarred, merely by hanging red curtains at the windows of the sick room. He later found a way to concentrate rays of the ordinary electric light so as to cure long standing cases of the dreaded lupus or tuberculosis of the face.

If Dr. Finsen had chosen to keep his plan of curing lupus a secret and to employ it only in his private practice he could have made a fortune out of it, and it would have been deemed professionally ethical for him to do so. But, inspired by the same generosity and desire to relieve suffering humanity which prompted him to continue his investigations at the cost of his health, he made his method public. The Finsen rays are today used for curing lupus and other serious and disfiguring skin diseases in every civilized country.

Dr. Finsen was but 43 years old. Overwork cut short his life. He was a true martyr in the cause of humanity. Mankind loses more by his early death than it would by the passing of many statesmen and soldiers who strut much more conspicuously upon the stage of the world.

HONORED BY FELLOW VETERANS

GENERAL H. V. BOYNTON

Gen. Henry V. He was made a brigadier general by President McKinley.

Puzzle to Medical Men.

Harry J. Scott's skull was fractured several weeks ago in Goshun, N. Y., when the tank of a chemical engine exploded and a piece of the metal penetrated his brain. A successful operation was performed, but he was partially paralyzed and unable to speak for days after consciousness returned. Finally, a slow improvement began, and when he made an effort to speak was able to enunciate only the word "mamma." The man is now able to walk, but the only words he can speak commence with the letter "M." Physicians say he will eventually recover his speech perfectly, but are unable to account for the peculiarity in the case.

English Speaker to Retire.

Mr. Gully, who has entered his 70th year, will probably retire from the speakership of the house of commons before another birthday comes round. It is predicted that by this time next year the first commoner will have a viscounty and a pension of £2,000 per annum. Mr. Gully, should he retire next year, will have occupied the chair for exactly a decade, or only one year less than Viscount Peel, his immediate predecessor.

NOMINATION PAPERS, HOW PREPARED AND SIGNED.—Section 5. 1. The name of no candidate shall be printed upon an official ballot used at any primary unless at least thirty days prior to such primary a nomination paper shall have been filed in his behalf as provided in this act in substantially the following form:

I, the undersigned, a qualified elector of (the........precinct of the town of................) or (the........precinct of the........ward of the city of ....), county of..........and state of Wisconsin, and a member of the ....party, hereby nominate ...., who resides (at No........on............street, city of........) or (in the town of........), in the county of........as a candidate for the office of (here specify the office)............ to be voted for at the primary to be held on the first Tuesday of September, 19.., as representing the principles of said party, and I further declare that I intend to support the candidate named herein.

Name of Signer.	In Cities: Street.	No.	Date of Signing.

2. All nomination papers shall have substantially the above form written or printed at the top thereof. No signatures shall be counted unless they be upon sheets each having such form written or printed at the top thereof.

3. Each signer of a nomination paper shall sign but one such paper for the same office, and shall declare that he intends to support the candidate named therein, he shall add his residence with the street and number, if any, and the date of signing.

4. For all nominations, except state officers, all signers of each separate nomination paper shall reside in the same precinct. For state officers, all signers on each separate nomination paper shall reside in the same county. The affidavit of a qualified elector shall be appended to each such nomination paper, stating that he is personally acquainted with all persons who have signed the same, and that he knows them to be electors of that precinct or county, as the nomination papers shall require; that he knows that they signed the same with full knowledge of the contents thereof and that their respective residences are stated therein and that each signer signed the same on the date stated, opposite his name, and that he, the affiant, intends to support the candidate named therein. Such affidavit shall not be made by the candidate, but each candidate shall file with his nomination paper, or papers, a declaration that he will qualify as such officer if nominated and elected.

5. Such nomination papers shall be signed,—

(a) If for a state office by at least one per cent. of the voters of the party of such candidate in at least each of six counties in the state, and in the aggregate not less than one per cent. of the total vote of his party in the state.

(b) If for a representative in Congress, by at least two per cent. of the voters of his party in a least one-tenth of the election precincts in each of at least one-half of the counties of the congressional district, and in the aggregate not less than two per cent. of the total vote of his party in such district.

(c) If for an office representing less than a congressional district in area, or a county office, by at least three per cent. of the party vote in at least one-sixth of the election precincts of such district and in the aggregate not less than three per cent. of the total vote of his party in such district.

The basis of percentage in each case shall be the vote of the party for the presidential elector receiving the largest vote at the last preceding presidential election.

But any political organization which at the last preceding general election was represented on the official ballot by either regular party candidates or by individual nominees only, may, upon complying with the provisions of this act, have a separate primary election ticket as a political party, if any of its candidates or individual nominees received one per cent. of the total vote cast at the last preceding general election in the state, or subdivision thereof, in which the candidate seeks the nomination.

Nomination papers may also be filed for non-partisan candidates; such papers shall contain at least two per cent of the total vote cast at the last preceding general election in the state, or subdivision thereof, in which the person is a candidate, such signers to be distributed in each case as required by the provisions of this act.

NOMINATION PAPERS, WHERE FILED.—Section 6. All nomination papers shall be filed as follows:

1. For state officers, United States senator, representatives in congress, and those members of senate and assembly whose districts comprise more than one county, in the office of the secretary of state.
2. For officers to be voted for wholly within one county, in the office of the county clerk of such county.
3. For city officers, in the office of the city clerk.

PUBLICATION OF NAMES OF CANDIDATES.—Section 7. At least twenty-five days before any primary preceding a general election, the secretary of state shall transmit to each county clerk a certified list containing the name and post office address of each person for whom nomination papers have been filed in his office, and entitled to be voted for at such primary, together with a designation of the office for which he is a candidate, and the party or principle he represents.

Such clerk shall forthwith upon receipt thereof publish under the proper party designation, the title of each office, the names and addresses of all persons for whom nomination papers have been filed, giving the name and address of each, the date of the primary, the hours during which the polls will be opened, and that the primary will be held at the regular polling places in each precinct.

It shall be the duty of the county clerk to publish such notice for three consecutive weeks prior to said primary.

Such clerk shall also forthwith mail copies of such notice to each town, village and city clerk of his county, who shall immediately post copies of the same in at least three public places in each precinct in his town, village or city, designating therein the location of the polling booth in each election precinct.

PUBLICATION OF NOTICES.—Section 8. Every publication required in this act shall be made in at least two, and not to exceed four newspapers of general circulation in such county or city, one of such newspapers shall represent the political party that cast the largest vote in such county or city at the preceding general election, and one of such newspapers shall represent the political party that cast the next largest vote in such county or city at the preceding general election.

In any case where the publication of a notice can not be made as hereinbefore required, it may be made in any newspaper having a general circulation in the county or city in which the notice is required to be published.

OFFICIAL BALLOTS.—Section 9. An official ballot shall be printed and provided for use at each voting precinct in the form provided herein and annexed hereto. The names of all candidates for the respective offices, for whom the nomination papers prescribed shall have been duly filed, shall be printed thereon.

On the reverse of the ballot the following endorsement is required:

PREPARATION AND DISTRIBUTION OF BALLOTS.—Section 10. 1. At least twenty days before the September primary each county clerk shall prepare sample official ballots, placing theron, alphabetically, under the appropriate title of each office and party designation, the names of all candidates to be voted for in the precinct of his county, for whom nomination papers have been filed. Such sample ballot shall be printed upon tinted or colored paper and shall contain no blank endorsement or certificate.

2. Such clerk shall forthwith submit the ticket of each party to the county chairman thereof and mail a copy to each candidate for whom nomination papers have been filed with him as required by this act, to his post office address, as given in such nomination paper, and he shall post a copy of each sample ballot in a conspicuous place in his office.

3. On the tenth day before such primary the county clerk shall correct any errors or omissions in the ballot, cause the same to be printed and distributed as required by law in the case of ballots for the general election, except that the number of ballots to be furnished to each precinct shall be twice the number of votes cast thereat in the last preceding general election.

EXPENSES OF PRIMARY, HOW PAID.—Section 11. All ballots, blanks, and other supplies to be used at any primary, and all expenses necessarily incurred in the preparation for or conducting such primary, shall be paid out of the treasury of the city, county, or state, as the case may be, in the same manner, with like effect, and by the same officers as in the case of elections.

CONDUCT OF PRIMARIES—MANNER OF VOTING.—Section 12. 1. The provisions of chapter 5, statutes of 1898, shall be applicable to the conduct of primaries where not otherwise provided. Section 47, statutes of 1898, is hereby amended so that all election officers shall be chosen or appointed in the manner therein provided, except that such choice shall be made in the month of August instead of September, as therein now provided.

2. The polls at primaries shall be open:

(a) In cities from six o'clock in the morning until nine o'clock in the evening.

(b) In all other precincts from eight o'clock in the morning until eight o'clock in the evening.

3. At all primaries there shall be an Australian ballot made up of the several party tickets herein provided for, all of which shall be securely fastened together at the top and folded, provided that there shall be as many separate tickets as there are parties entitled to participate in said primary election. There shall also be attached a non-partisan ticket upon which, under the appropriate title of each office shall be printed the names of all persons for whom nomination papers shall have been filed, as required by this act, who are not designated on such nomination papers as candidates of any political party, as defined by this act. The names of all candidates shall be arranged alphabetically according to surnames under the appropriate title of the respective offices and under the proper party designation upon the party ticket or upon the non-partisan ticket as the case may be. If any elector write upon his ticket the name of any person who is a candidate for the same office upon some other ticket than that upon which his name is so written, this ballot shall be counted for such person only as a candidate of the party upon whose ticket his name is written, and shall in no case be counted for such person as a candidate upon any other ticket. In case the person is nominated upon more than one ticket, he shall forthwith file with the proper officer, or officers, in charge of the preparation of the ballots, a written declaration indicating the party designation under which his name is to be printed on the official ballot. The ballots with the endorsements shall be in substantially the form heretofore annexed, provided that ballots for any city primary may be varied as to the title of the offices to be printed thereon, so as to conform to the law under which each such primary is held. The provisions of section 51, statutes of 1898, so far as applicable shall govern the preparation of the ballot. After preparing his ballot, the elector shall detach the same from the remaining tickets and fold it so that its face will be concealed and the printed endorsements and signatures or initials thereon seen. The remaining tickets attached together shall be folded in like manner by the elector who shall thereupon, without leaving the polling place vote the marked ballot forthwith, and deposit the remaining tickets in the separate ballot box to be marked and designated as the blank ballot box. Immediately after the canvass, the inspectors shall, without examination, destroy the tickets deposited in the blank ballot box.

VACANCIES, HOW FILLED.—Section 13. Vacancies occurring after the holding of any primary shall be filled by the party committee of the city, district, county or state as the case may be.

VOTING AND REGISTRATION AT PRIMARIES.—Section 14. 1. No person shall be entitled to vote at any primary unless a qualified elector of the precinct and duly registered therein, if registration thereat be required by law.

2. Every primary election day and the Monday next preceding it, shall be registration days, where registration is required, on which the inspectors shall exercise the powers prescribed by sections 25 and 26, statutes of 1898; but no person shall be registered on or after the day of holding the primary without personally appearing before the inspectors.

3. The inspectors shall register any person who shall on any registration day file an oath or affirmation to the effect that he is a qualified elector in such precinct, or when they personally know him to be such.

4. Any person registered on either of said days as prescribed herein, shall be entitled to vote at the succeeding election without other registration.

5. There shall be no other registration day or days for either a primary, a general or city election, except that prescribed by section 27, of the statutes of 1898.

6. No voter shall be required to register under the provisions of this act were registration is not now required by law.

7. The inspectors shall be in session for the purpose of registration from nine o'clock in the morning until eight o'clock in the evening, except that on the day of holding the primary they shall be in session from six o'clock in the morning until nine o'clock in the evening. No inspector or clerk shall be paid to exceed three dollars as compensation for services on any registration, primary, general or city election day.

CHALLENGES.—Section 15. The party committee of each precinct may appoint in writing over their signatures, two party agents or representatives, with an alternate for each, who shall act as challengers for their respective parties, and have the power prescribed by section 46, statutes of 1898. The right of any person to vote at a primary may be challenged upon the same ground and his right to vote be determined in the same manner as at an election. The chairman of each party committee of any precinct may represent his party at the polling booth during the canvass and return of the vote at a primary or he may appoint an agent or designate a member of his committee for that purpose.

CANVASS OF VOTES.—Section 16.—Canvass of votes cast shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be made in the same manner and by the same officers as the canvass of an election. The party chairman of the precinct in a precinct canvass, of the county in a county canvass, of the state in a state canvass, or some duly appointed agent to represent each party shall be allowed to be present and observe the proceedings.

1. The precinct inspectors of election shall, on separate sheets, on blanks to be provided for that purpose, make full and accurate returns of the votes cast for each candidate, and shall within twenty-four hours cause to be delivered one copy of such returns as to each political party, to the county chairman of that party and also cause such returns to be delivered to the county clerk, if a September primary, or to the chairman of the city committee and city clerk if a city primary, provided always that such returns shall be sent by registered mail where practicable.

2. The county canvass of the returns of the September primary shall be made by the same officers and in the manner provided in chapter 5, statutes of 1898, for the canvass of the returns of a November election. The canvassers shall meet and canvass such returns at ten o'clock on the Friday following the September primary. Their returns shall contain the whole number of votes cast for each candidate of each political party, and a duplicate as to each political party shall be delivered to the county chairman of such party.

3. The canvassers shall also make an additional duplicate return in the same form as provided in subdivision 2, showing the votes cast for each candidate not voted for wholly within the limits of the county. The county clerk shall forthwith send to the secretary of state by registered mail one complete copy of all returns as to such candidates, and he shall likewise send to the chairman of the state central committee of each party a duplicate copy of the returns last described relating to such candidates of each such party.

Section 17. The board of canvassers provided for by section 93, statutes of 1898, to canvass returns of a November election, shall constitute the state board of canvassers of September primaries, and all the provisions of section 94 and 94b inclusive of said statutes relating to the canvass of the return of a November election, shall, as far as applicable, apply to the canvass, return, and certification to the secretary of state of such primary. Such board shall meet at the office of the secretary of state at ten o'clock a. m. on the third Tuesday of September next after the September primary.

PARTY CANDIDATES.—Section 18. 1. The person receiving the greatest number of votes at a primary as the candidate of a party for an office, shall be the candidate of that party for such office, and his name as such candidate shall be placed on the official ballot at the following election.

2. As soon as a state canvass of a primary shall be certified to him, the secretary of state shall publish in the official state paper a certified statement of the result of such primary as to candidates for state officers, United States senators, and representatives in congress, and any other candidate whose district extends beyond the limits of a single county, and shall mail to the chairman of the state central committee of each party so much of such certificate as relates to his party.

SECRETARY OF STATE TO CERTIFY TO COUNTY CLERKS.—Section 19. 1. Not less than fourteen days before any November election the secretary of state shall certify to the county clerk of each county within which any of the electors may vote for the candidates for such offices, the name and description of each person nominated for any such office as specified in the nomination papers.

Section 20. The canvass of the returns of a city primary shall be made by the mayor, the city clerk, and the treasurer of such city, any two of whom shall constitute a quorum. Such board of canvassers shall meet at eleven o'clock in the forenoon of the day following the city primary and canvass the vote substantially as provided by sections 82 and 83, statutes of 1898. They shall make and certify duplicate returns as to the votes cast for the candidates and forthwith certify and file one complete return with the city clerk and deliver so much of the other as relates to each party to the respective city chairman.

PARTY COMMITTEES.—Section 21. 1. At the September primary each voter may write in the space left on his ticket for that purpose the names of not to exceed three qualified electors of the precinct for members of his party precinct committee. The three having the highest number of votes shall constitute such committee, and the one having the largest vote shall be chairman. The official return made by the inspectors shall show the names and addresses of each party committeeman chosen.

2. The party committee of each city and county and of each assembly district shall consist of the party chairman of each precinct in such city, county or district; the state senatorial district committee of the chairman of the assembly district committees in such senatorial district; the congressional committees of the party chairman of the senatorial district committees, wholly or partially within such congressional district; the state central committee as hereinafter provided. Each such committee shall choose its officers by ballot excepting as herein provided.

3. Each committee and its officers shall have the powers usually exercised by such committees, and by the officers thereof, in so far as is consistent with this act. The various officers and committees now in existence shall exercise the powers and perform the duties herein prescribed until their successors are chosen in accordance with this act. At all meetings of said city, county and assembly district committees, each precinct chairman shall have one vote for every fifty votes, or major fraction thereof cast by his party in his precinct at the last general election, each such chairman to have at least one vote, the vote at such general election to be determined as provided in section 5 of this act. The duties of the party precinct chairman, when he shall be unable to perform the same, shall be performed by a member of his party precinct committee designated by him. The duties of the chairman or secretary of any other committee may be performed by members of such committee, selected by such chairman or secretary. Any vacancy in any committee office shall be filled in the same manner as that in which such officer was originally chosen, except that in the case of a vacancy in the chairmanship of a precinct committee, the committee shall elect one of its members to fill such vacancy.

PARTY PLATFORM.—Section 22. The candidates for the various state offices, and for senate and assembly nominated by each political party at such primary, shall meet at the capitol at twelve o'clock noon on the fourth Tuesday of September after the date on which any primary is held preliminary to any general election. They shall forthwith formulate the state platform of their party. They shall thereupon proceed to elect a state central committee of at least two members from each congressional district and a chairman of such committee, and perform such other business as may properly be brought before such meeting. The platform of each party shall be framed at such time that it shall be made public, not later than six o'clock in the afternoon of the following day.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.—Section 23. 1. In case of a tie vote, the tie shall forthwith be determined by lot by the canvassers.

2. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state and attorney general, on or before July 1st, 1905, to prepare all forms necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, which forms shall be substantially followed in all primaries held in pursuance hereof. Such forms shall be printed with copies of this act for public use and distribution. Every day on which a September primary shall be held shall be a legal holiday.

THE PENAL PROVISION.—Section 24. 1. Any person who shall offer, or with knowledge of the same, permit any person to offer for his benefit any bribe to a voter to induce him to sign any election paper to any person who shall except any such bribe or promise of gain of any kind in the nature of a bribe as consideration for signing the same, whether such bribe or promise of gain in the nature of a bribe be offered or accepted before or after such signing, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon trial and conviction thereof be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail of not less than ten days nor more than six months, or by both fine and imprisonment.

2. Any act declared an offense by the general laws of this state concerning caucuses and elections shall also, in like case, be an offense in all primaries, and shall be punished in the same form and manner as therein provided, and all the penalties and provisions of the law as to such caucuses and elections except as herein otherwise provided, shall apply in such case with equal force and to the same extent as though fully set forth in this act.

3. Any person who shall forge any name of a signer or witness to a nomination paper shall be deemed guilty of forgery, and on conviction punished accordingly. Any person who, being in possession of nomination papers entitled to be filed under this act, or any act of the legislature, shall wrongfully either suppress, neglect, or fail to cause the same to be filed at the proper time in the proper office shall on conviction, be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed six months, or by a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

GENERAL ELECTION LAWS TO APPLY.—Section 25. The provisions of the statutes now in force in relation to the holding of elections, the solicitation of voters at the polls, the challenging of voters, the manner of conducting elections, of counting the ballots and making return thereof, and all other kindred subjects, shall apply to all primaries in so far as they are consistent with this act, the intent of this act being to place the primary under the regulation and protection of the laws now in force as to elections.

SUBMISSION OF ACT TO VOTE OF PEOPLE; WHEN TO TAKE EFFECT IF APPROVED.—Section 26. The question whether the foregoing provisions of this act shall take effect and be in force shall be submitted to the people of this state, in the manner provided by law for the submission of an amendment to the constitution, at the next general election to be held in November, 1904.

If approved by a majority of the votes cast upon that question, it shall go into effect and be in force from and after such ratification by the people; otherwise it shall not take effect or be in force. Upon the ballot shall be printed "Shall Chapter..........(Insert on the ballot the number of chapter) of the laws of 1903, entitled 'An act to provide for party nominations by direct vote' be adopted?"

Section 27. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with or in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Section 28. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication subject to all provisions herein contained for its submission to the people for their ratification or rejection.

Approved May 23d, 1903.

Given under my hand and official seal at the Capitol in the City of Madison, this 31st day of August, A. D., 1904.

A Spider's Appetite.

The spider has a tremendous appetite, and his gormandizing defies all human competition. A scientist, who carefully noted a spider's consumption of food in twenty-four hours, concluded that if the spider were built proportionately to the human scale he would eat at daybreak, approximately, a small alligator, by 7 a. m. a lamb, by 9 a. m. a calf, and by one o'clock a sheep, and would finish up with a lark pie in which there were 120 birds.

Savages First to Use Mortar.

Mortar was made by the people of Tahiti when our ancestors were shivering in holes in the rocks. They dived into the sea, brought up great lumps of coral, burned them in pits, using wood as fuel, and mixed the lime they got in this fashion with sharp sand and water. With this mixture the ingenious savage plastered the walls and floor of his house, and a better mortar could not be obtained.

A Contented Husband.

No, my wife's not educated, and when she tries to talk upon the topics of the day, you're apt to get a shock. She isn't up in music, and she never went to dances, yet when old enough to marry, she had a dozen chances. No, she isn't very handsome, but then she takes the cake when it comes to making biscuit like mother used to make.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Sage Fixes Wedding Date.

No Korean couple would think of marrying without consulting the sage, who fixes the happy day for them. This he does simply by adding the bride's age to the bridegroom's and after determining which star rules the destiny of their united ages, he decrees that the wedding shall take place upon the day sacred to that star.

The Devil Grows Clumsy.

A Malden woman whose sprained knee was made well by faith alone, two days after she fell from her bicycle, explains the accident: "Satan had a special spite against my bicycle, because it was dedicated to God before I ever mounted it." Yet the bicycle did not suffer. The devil is growing clumsy.—Boston Advertiser.

Disinfect Railway Carriages.

On the Bavarian state railways the passenger carriages are regularly disinfected with formaldehyde. The method adopted is to close the windows and doors tightly, and on the floor of the car is placed a pan which contains metal weights heated to a dull red color. A 20 per cent solution of formaldehyde is then poured into the pan. After having been left for about seven hours the carriage is then thoroughly ventilated.

Kiss Once a Religious Observance.

The kiss has been common among English-speaking people for uncounted centuries. It was known even to those mystical, half-forgotten persons, the Druids, who appear to have made it in some way a very important part of their religious observances. The Christian kiss under the mistletoe comes down from them, and is thought to have had in years long past a sacred significance.

Persian Remedy for Extortion.

They have curious methods in Persia of insuring law and order. A failure of the crops had resulted in a dear loaf, which much enraged the populace. In order to quell the tumult, the Shah ordered a number of bakers to receive several hundred strokes with a rod, besides a few minor little attentions, such as the amputation of an ear or two.

Bank Sets Style for Clerks.

A bank clerk writes to the London Chronicle stating that he is afraid the irritation caused by his high collar will produce a cancer under his chin. But he does not know what to do, "for," he says, "I dare not assuage my anxiety by resorting to the low or turned-down variety, for I am sure I should be immediately dismissed from my bank."

Game Cught to Be Popular.

A new game has just been invented in north Georgia. It takes a young man, a girl and an apple. The young man tosses the apple up in the air. If it comes down, he kisses the girl. If it stays up, he doesn't. After the apple wears out new apples may be substituted. There is no time limit to the game.—Atlanta Journal.

CONNECTICUT IS POWERFUL ADDITION TO AMERICAN NAVY

There went overboard from the government ways in the Brooklyn navy yard Sept. 29 a battleship the superior of any of her type save her sister vessel, the Louisiana, which was recently launched from the yards of a private shipbuilder.

The Connecticut and the Louisiana are two of the most powerful battleships that have ever been built. The designs were found to be so satisfactory that they were adopted for three later battleships subsequently authorized by congress, these being the Vermont, the Kansas and the Minnesota, all now in course of construction, but none very far advanced toward completion.

Designed for giving heavy blows and for receiving them, the main points of interest about a battleship lies in her battery and system of armor protection. The Connecticut is designed to carry a battery of four 12-inch rifles, eight 8-inch rifles, twelve 7-inch rifles, twenty 3-inch rifles, twelve 3-pounders (automatic), eight 1-pounder (automatic) eight machine guns, two 3-inch field guns and four torpedo tubes.

The First Connecticut.

"It goes without saying," writes the naval expert of the Scientific American, "that this is a tremendous battery. All the guns are of the latest high velocity, long calibre, rapid fire type. The 12-inch has a muzzle velocity of 2,800 foot seconds, an energy of 46,246 foot tons and a penetration of iron at the muzzle of 47.2 inches. The 8-inch gun has also a velocity of 2,800 foot seconds, and its energy at the muzzle is 13,600 foot tons, while it is capable of penetrating 31.4 inches of iron at the muzzle. The 7-inch gun is fifty calibres in length, has a velocity of 2,900 feet per second, a muzzle energy of 9,646 foot tons and can penetrate 28.7 inches of iron at the muzzle. The excellent 3-inch gun has the high velocity of 3,000 feet per second and a muzzle energy of 874 foot tons."

By reason of her memorable trip around the Horn and her splendid work at Santiago, the Oregon has been popularly regarded as a battleship unequaled. The Oregon certainly was and still is a superb fighting machine, but her chances of winning in an encounter with the Connecticut would be about the same as those of John L. Sullivan if now pitted against Jeffries, the now champion of the ring.

The defense arrangements, according to the expert authority quoted, are the most complete to be found in any design built or building today. There is an unbroken belt of Krupp armor from stem to stern, which is eleven inches in thickness at the water line amidships, and tapers gradually to a minimum thickness of four inches at the ends. Associated with this is a complete steel deck three inches in thickness, which slopes toward the sides of the vessel to a junction with the side armor below the water line. It is also sloped forward and aft to a junction below the water line with the stem and stern.

In addition to the belt of Krupp steel that protects the waterline nearly 8,000 cubic feet of corn pith cellulose will be driven in back of the belt armor throughout the length of the ship, the mass being tightly rammed into a steel cofferdam, which is worked in as part of the structure of the ship. Should a penetration of the belt occur the shot would probably pass through the corn pith cofferdam, but as soon as the water followed the saturation of the corn pith would cause it to swell with great rapidity, until it acted with an obturating effect in closing the hole.

Before the shell could reach the engine room or boilers or magazines it would have to pass through several feet of coal stored in the coal bunkers, and then it would have to effect a very oblique penetration through the sloping sides of the three-inch deck. If it should penetrate the three-inch steel deck several feet more of coal would be encountered, and it is pretty safe to say that such fragments of the shell as might reach the vitals of the ship would have lost so much of their velocity as to be capable of doing very little harm when they got there.

It is interesting to note that in the building of the Connecticut and the Louisiana there has been a rivalry between the government builders and the Newport News Shipbuilding company, which has had no parallel in this country. The vessels were authorized by the same congress and it was stipulated that one be built at a navy yard, the other by a private enterprise.

The Newport News company got the contract for building the Louisiana, and the work of constructing the Connecticut was intrusted to the New York navy yard. The Louisiana was so far ahead of the Connecticut that she was launched several weeks ago. This would seem to indicate that private shipbuilding enterprises can turn out battleships faster than can the government at its navy yards.

But it should be recalled that no vessel had been built at the New York yard since the Maine was constructed, whereas numbers have been constructed at the hands of the Newport News company. The one had already been equipped with every necessary appliance, whereas on the other hand these had to be supplied.

Moreover, the men in private employ might work overtime if they liked, whereas the other being in government employ had stipulated hours of labor, and there being no government warrant to hurry work them worked the regulation hours and ceased.

The Connecticut measures 450 feet in length and has an extreme beam of 79 feet 10 inches. She displaces 16,000 tons, is fitted with triple expansion engines, and is designed to have a sustained sea speed of eighteen knots an hour. Her engines are of the vertical triple expansion type and are supplied with steam from Babcock & Wilcox boilers. The indicated horsepower is 16,500, the coal capacity 2,200 tons. Her complement is 42 officers and 761 men.

WILL LONG BE REMEMBERED.

Louis Fleischmann, Called Home, Was Genuine Philanthropist.

Louis Fleischmann of New York cast his bread upon the waters and it returned to him an hundred-fold. Mr. Fleischmann was a practical philanthropist. He was called a "pauperizer of the idle" ten years ago when he established his "bread line," but this did not turn him from his purpose. To him anyone who begged something to eat was sufficiently in want to deserve charity. If the suppliant was willing to wait in a long line of gaunt-eyed, shivering humanity, in the most inclement of weather, he was hungry enough to deserve his half-loaf and cup of steaming coffee. So the "bread line" continued and grew, and often has it been taken as an index of the number of needy and unemployed in the great city of the East. The man who established the bread line is gone, but the line remains, an eloquent tribute to the memory of one of the gentlest and best-loved philanthropists in this land of more or less unequally distributed abundance.

Soldier's Enduring Fame.

"Dulce et decorum est pro patria mori"—thus it has always been and thus it will be so long as international disagreements continue to be settled by resort to arms. Not only do patriots deem it sweet and becoming to die for their country, but the memory of those who fall in defense of flag and country is cherished more sacredly than that of those who achieve the greatest and most beneficent triumphs in the arts of peace. No other fame is so enduring as that of the military hero. On no other are honors so gratefully bestowed. This is demonstrated in the history of the United States quite as conclusively as in that of any other country.—Washington Post.

Aged Precidential Elector.

One of the gentlemen nominated for presidential electors, by the Pennsylvania Republicans has seen his 85th birthday. He is George Van Eman Lawrence of Monongahela, ex-congressman. He used to be a locally famous fox hunter. He voted for William Henry Harrison in 1840. He is five years older than Judge Parker's running mate.

Output of Copper.

More than half of the world's output of copper is produced in the United States. The total production in 1903 was 565,520 long tons, of which the United States contributed 298,650 tons; Spain and Portugal, 49,740; Mexico, 45,315; Japan, 31,360; Chile, 30,530, and other countries smaller amounts.

Famous French Statesmen.

Rounded Out Name.

Judge D. Cady Herrick, Democratic candidate for governor of New York, was baptized plain Cady Herrick, the name having been selected by his mother. But this did not please his father. The latter thought that Cady might be softened into Katie—and his child was a big, bouncing boy. When the boy attained a few years his father told him to write his name D. Cady Herrick. He said: "The D will signify the only letter of the alphabet for which it stands. If people choose to think that it stands for a name instead of a letter, they may; but as for you, write your name D. Cady Herrick—D, to please me and Cady to please your mother. Then we'll both be represented."

Lady Grey a Crack Shot.

Lady Sibyl Grey, who will accompany the newly appointed governor general of Canada, Earl Grey, to America, inherits her father's sporting proclivities. She is an expert angler and a crack shot. Last year at the Crystal Palace, she scored seven bull's-eyes in succession.

Altogether she is a fine type of the aristocratic English sportswoman, full of life and vigor, and delighting in all forms of outdoor recreation.

Stage Coach for Fair.

A six-horse, thirty-four-passenger coach of the tally ho style has arrived at the world's fair from Yellowstone National Park. It will be used to convey distinguished parties over the grounds. The coach will be headed by John Reynolds, a veteran driver.

Long Life of Usefulness.

George H. ("Laundaulet") Williams, mayor of Portland, Ore., is 82 years old. He served as attorney general of the United States during Gen. Grant's second term and was United States senator for six years.

Signs of Disease

The First Signs of Disease are a Poor Complexion, Weakness, Emaciation and Lack of Vitality.

The first sign of returning health is increase of flesh, strength and vigor. This weakness, emaciation and lack of vitality simply means that certain substances, which go to make up the blood and nerves, have become exhausted; and to renew flesh, muscle and strength, these substances must be restored. Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food is composed of the same kind of substances that are lacking in the impoverished blood and nerves when in poor health, and abundant in the rich juices that flow through the system when in perfect health. If people would take this food occasionally when in health to keep their blood and nerves in good condition, many spells of sickness and wasting disease would be prevented. It makes sick people well, puts solid flesh and muscle on thin people, gives strength to weak people, restores the lost vitality to nervous people, imparts the tint of health to pale and sallow people. It adds years to life and puts life into years. Price 50 cents. Book free.

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK & POULTRY MEDICINE

This great stock medicine is a money saver for stock raisers. It is a medicine, not a cheap food or condition powder. Though put up in corner form than Thedford's Black-Draught, renowned for the cure of the digestion troubles of persons, it has the same qualities of invigorating digestion, stirring up the torpid liver and loosening the constipated bowels for all stock and poultry. It is carefully prepared and its action is so healthful that stock grow and thrive with an occasional dose in their food. It cures hog cholera and makes hogs grow fat. It cures chicken cholera and roup and makes hens lay. It cures constipation, distemper and colds in horses, murrain in cattle, and makes a draught animal do more work for the food consumed. It gives animals and fowls of all kinds new life. Every farmer and raiser should certainly give it a trial.

It costs 25c. a can and saves ten times its price in profit.

PITTSBURG, KAS., March 25, 1904.
I have been using your Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine on my stock for some time. I have used all kinds of stock food but I have found that yours is the best for my purpose.

Political Points of View.
(Democ.)

Between the mercenary and missionary lies mutuality, and, it is upon this principle that true and triumphant democracy should and must be based.

It is neither a party of the appellated "rich" nor of the so-called "poor"; a billionaire is just as good as anybody else as long as he believes himself, and a beggar just as bad when he does not. The burdens and benefit of society should be equitably entailed, and government should never intrude nor interfere except when oppression on one hand necessitates check or curb; or, ignorance on the other hand needs protection and pupilage. Freedom, therefore, instead of fathers should be the town and trend of legislation. To be specific take Freedom of Commerce as contrasted with Fettered Commerce. In the case of the former we have International Trade Comity "Open Ports," Equitable Exchange; in the latter we have the policy and plans of Pauperizing, Proscriptive and Pronuncial Custom Dues, "Chinese Walls" Exparal Exorbitancy. In the coming presidential campaign one of the important issues is, shall the United States, go forward in reducing, if not removing the barriers, which, more or less, isolates us from sister nations; or, "Standing Pat" shall it continue to be—indulgently but mistakenly—influenced and overcome by babyish cries of sordid and selfish interests, whose own real good would be much better served by ethico-economic interdependence.

The Wisconsin democracy at its state convention held at Oshkosh last week placed in nomination a winning ticket and one that meets the approval of all democrats of this section. Hon. George W. Peck, who was named for the position of governor, is no stranger to the tax payers of this state. In 1890 he was elected governor of Wisconsin and in 1892 was re-elected to that position. During the four years that he was in charge of state affairs, his administration was not only noted for practicing economy in all branches, but because of the suits brought to recover over half a million dollars that were misappropriated by ex-state treasurers. Not in the history of the state was over a cleaner of more popular administration than that of Gov. Peck. He is an honest man with plenty of backbone and is not afraid to put his stamp of disapproval on all froms of jobbery. With Geo. W. Peck in the gubernatorial chair such loose methods as have developed in the state treasury office under the present governor will not occur, and instead of an army of office-holders being appointed as game wardens, inspectors, etc., to run a political machine, only a sufficient number of men to conduct the business of the state in a legitimate manner will be kept at work. Democrats of Wisconsin were justly proud of the four years that Gov. Peck was at the head of state affairs and will do everything fair and honorable to once more elevate him to the position of governor.—Chilton Times.

The county fairs this fall are proving an excellent opportunity for Gov. LaFollette to explain to the people why nothing has been accomplished during the past four years and to make the usual grist of promises for the coming two years. This speaking at county fairs, which was originally intended to be a non partican affair, has degenerated into a regular political rally. It would seem as if the most prejudiced mind would revolt at this sort of thing, but there are people who become so carried away by politics that anything is right just so it emanates from their side of the fence.

Confessions of a Priest.

Rev. Jno. S. Coy, of Wake, Ark., writes, "For 12 years I suffered from Yellow Jaundice. I consulted a number of physicians and tried all sorts of medicines, but got no relief. Then I began the use of Electric Bitters and feel that I am now cured of a disease that had me in its grasp for twelve years." If you want a reliable medicine for liver and kidney trouble, stomach disorder or general debility, get Electric Bitters. It's guaranteed by Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

A Love Letter.

Would not interest you if you're looking for a guaranteed salve for sores, burns or piles. Otto Dodd, of Ponder, Mo., writes: "I suffered with an ugly sore for a year, but a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured me. It's the best salve on earth. 25c at Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

STALWRATS NOT IN IT.

Then came the nomination of a county clerk. The name of Geo. W. Davis of this city being presented, and there being no other nomination, he was chosen unanimously.

For county treasurer, Philip Bean of Hansen was the choice of the convention, his being the only name presented.

For the office of register of deeds there were two names suggested, that of V. G. Nason of Nasonville and A. B. Cotey of Pittsville. A choice was made on the first ballot, Mr. Nason receiving 30 and Mr. Cotey 16.

The contestents for clerk of court were A. B. Bever and H. L. Miscoll. The first ballot gave Mr. Bever 32 and Mr. Miscoll 16, and Mr. Bever as declared the choice of the convention.

T. W. Brazeau was nominated to the office of district attorney without opposition.

For the office of surveyor, two names were mentioned, Warren Severance and Donald McKercher. Mr. Severance got the nomination by a vote of 28 to 8.

Jacob Lusk, the present incumbent was chosen for coroner, thus ending the list of nominations to be made.

Taken altogether, the convention was a very good one and thoroly enjoyed by everyone but the republicans. It seems that the halfbreeds had promised the stalwarts to compromise the matter with them by placing two stalwarts on the county ticket, in view of which favor the stalwarts were not to bring in any minority report. The halfbreeds were also to leave any reference to "Honest Bob" out of the resolutions introduced. The halfbreeds, so the stalwarts say, did not keep their promise, and when the resolutions were read after supper the most of the stalwarts from the city of Marshfield got up and left the hall.

A Novel Tea Party.

On Thursday, September 29th, the officers of St. Catherine's Guild, Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. MacKinnon and Mrs. Voss, gave a tea party at the residence of Mrs. MacKinnon for the members of the guild. Thirty-nine responded to the invitation. After they had all arrived each lady was given a bundle containing two colors of crepe paper, a narrow strip of cardboard, a row of pins, and told to make a hat or bonnet, the best they could do in half an hour. That they were busy, goes without saying, particularly as two prizes were offered, one for the prettiest and a consolation prize for the homeliest.

Supper was served as soon as the ladies had finished. Then each lady was requested to wear her hat during supper. They certainly presented a very pretty sight, as most of the creations were characteristic, very becoming, and no two alike. After a delightful supper, which was served on several tables in the drawing room, library and sitting room, the ladies had a grand march and cake walk past the judges, and it was difficult indeed for the gentlemen to decide among themselves which lady had the most charming hat, as all looked so pretty. Mr. MacKinnon, Mr. Witter, Mr. Voss and Father Blakeslee composed the committee of judges and finally decided upon Miss Carman, whose hat was decidedly clever. Miss Forbes carried away the consolation prize, her Dutch bonnet, in the opinion of the judges, being the most unbecoming. The guests departed at 8:30, all agreeing that they had had a most enjoyable time and many strangers having had the opportunity of meeting all the ladies and becoming new members of the guild.

Sale of Shorthorns.

At the sale of Shorthorns held by L. M. Nash on Saturday there were a number of buyers present and twenty seven head of cattle were disposed of. Most of them were bought by people in this immediate vicinity, but a number will be sent outside. The stock sold was a nice lot, and it is encouraging to see so many taking an interet in the subject of improving their stock. Following are the names of those that made purchases:

Henry Humm, Rudolph; M. Sierek, city, for his New Rome farm; John Wellner, Port Edwards; Dan Goulett, Dancy; Ed. Lynch, for his Montelle farm; Chas. Mills, New Rome; C. E. Boles, City; John Joling, Vesper; E. A. Vannetta, City; John Schriber, City; John Leibe, Grand Rapids town; W. W. Dake, New Rome; L. W. Joslynn, Armenia; John Lindahl, Rudolph; A. W. Cromwell, Plainfield; Will Kunth, Sigel; John Rohan, Sigel; Thos. Nash, Sigel; L. Shasneck, Junction City.

Political Speech Friday.

On Friday evening, October 7th, Wm. F. Wolf, nominee for attorney general on the democratic ticket, will give a speech at the opera house, at 8 o'clock. Mr. Wolf is said to be a good talker and should be heard by every voter in the city, no matter what their political belief is. Some have tried to cause apathy in the party this year by claiming that there are no political issues, but this is not a fact and there never was a time when voters in general should make more of an effort to inform themselves on the political points that will be brought out. Every man has a right to express himself at the polls as he sees fit, but he should make an effort to inform himself before voting time comes. It will not do you any harm to hear Mr. Wolf even tho it does you no good.

Better Than Pills.

The question has been asked—In what way are Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and liver pills? Our answer is—They are easier and more pleasant to take and their effect is so gentle and so agreeable that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. Then they not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and aid the digestion. For sale at 25 cents per bottle by Otto's Pharmacy.

Preached in Milwaukee.

Rev. B. J. H. Shaw occupied the pulpit of the Plymouth Congregational church in Milwaukee last Sunday. In speaking of the fact the Milwaukee Sentinel quotes from his sermon as follows:

"Modern materialism is merely one of the indications of the struggle of the soul of man for the eternal," said the Rev. B. J. H. Shaw of Grand Rapids, Wis., at Plymouth Congregational church speaking Sunday night in place of the regular pastor, Judson Titsworth. "The unhappiness of the rich and the discontent of the poor arise from the same dissatisfaction with present things. Each is looking to something beyond, which he has not yet attained, but which he hopes eventually to grasp. Neither the wages of the laborer, nor the accumulations of the rich have the power to satisfy. The young man in the bible was advised to get rid of his riches if he wished to advance, because they were a limitation which he was unable to get beyond, and it is the same today.

"The inefficiency of science has been shown, in that it has been unable to solve the greatest question of life which is the nature of the vital principle. There is something beyond which continually urges the spirit of man on. Education and knowledge open his eyes to the things which are of value, and he discovers truth and beauty.

"As he follows these he is led closer and closer to the discovery of the great eternal which is present in all life. But there is ever a constant change, as one point is reached, another is discovered beyond to be strived for and attained."

A Stubborn Case!

Mr. Wm. Many Mothers of a Like Opinion.

Mrs. Pilmer, of Cordova, Iowa, says: "One of my children was subject to croup of a severe type, and the giving of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy promptly, always brought relief. Many mothers in this neighborhood think the same as I do about this remedy and want no other kind for their children." Otto's Pharmacy.

A Narrow Escape.

E. C. Voyer, who was driving Comet, Geo. Snyder's horse, at the Marshfield fair last week, met with an accident that few expected to see him come out of alive. He was in the 2:35 pace, and in the first heat the horse struck a soft spot in the track and turned a complete somersault, throwing Mr. Voyer into the air several feet and landing him on the ground with great force. The next horse behind jumped completely over Mr. Voyer, who quickly got up and grabbed his horse before it could thrash about and injure itself in any way. He was considerably shaken up, but when the racers were called out for the next heat, both horse and driver were on deck as if nothing had happened. Men who have followed the race track for years said that it was the most miraculous escape they had ever seen.

Mr. Snyder sold his horse Comet to Wausau parties during the fair for $250.

—"The Irish Pawnbrokers" one of the standard farce comedies is booked for an appearance at the Grand, on Thursday night, Oct. 6th. "The Pawnbrokers" are said to be up to their former standard, which means lots of new music, plenty of ensemble numbers, the usual pretty chorus, and a complete scenic equipment. The company is as usual headed by Wesley and Mack and Mazie Trambull.

—Mrs. Marshall, who has been a great sufferer for several years, and whose condition seemed quite hopeless, is improving nicely under Dr. McElwee's treatment. Two months ago Mrs. Marshall decided to consult the doctor after learning what he had done for several cases that had been as discouraging as Mrs. Marshall's. The doctor said the trouble was principally a nervous one, and that while some time would be required to make a great improvement, the case would yield eventually to his treatment. Mr. McElwee's success with this and similar cases has built up a large practice for him in Grand Rapids and other cities. The doctor's many patients here are all getting well.

Little Loretta Cummings, who was seriously injured week before last by being shot in the head with a 22 calibre pistol, is getting along nicely and the chances are now fair of her getting well, provided no unlooked complications arise. The case is a most remarkable one, and outside of a partial paralysis of the left side the little one seems to suffer but little inconvenience.

Adam Paulus of Marshfield left on Monday for the west, and it is no secret that Mr. Paulus has decided to enter the ranks of the benedicts, the young lady in question being Miss Delia Larson, who has been visiting friends at Seattle during the past two months. The date of the event has been set for the 17th instant. The Tribune wishes to extend the heartiest of congratulations when the happy event occurs.

Pittsville Times.—Just as we go to press we are informed of a business transfer which comes as quite a surprise. On Wednesday a deal was closed up whereby J. J. Ebbe of Grand Rapids and J. F. Seidl of Marshfield become owners of the Janssen & Lowell Hardware store. Messrs. Ebbe & Seidl will take charge of the business about the middle of November.

—Mrs. E. L. Ross wishes to announce to the ladies of Grand Rapids that she will have her fall opening of millinery this week Friday and Saturday, Oct. 6 and 7. Her selection includes all the latest creations, toques, bonnets, picture hats, tailored hats, carriage hats, French sailors and children's hats. She invties the ladies to call.

—"The Irish Pawnbrokers," one of the most prosperous of the current farce comedies, is the attraction that will be presented by Manager Hamilton at the Grand Opera House, Thursday night, Sept. 6. The company this season is meeting with its usual success and judging from newspaper reports have the best company ever seen in this popular skit. Mrs. L. L. Dodge of Miama, Fla., was a pleasant caller at the Tribune office on Friday. Mrs. Dodge has been spending the past summer with her parents in Sigel, but expects to leave in a couple of weeks for Hot Springs, Ark., where she will visit relatives for a few weeks after which she may return to Florida. Mrs. Dodge seems well pleased with her home in Florida and says that while the winters are delightful, the summers are also temporate, and that they have nothing like the extremes of heat that mark the summer months in Wisconsin.

Proposed Railroad Charge.

Pittsville Times.—At last there seems to be some chance at least, that Pittsville is to have a little better railroad accomodations. The civil engineer for the St. Paul road was in the city a few days ago and, in company with Mr. H. C. McCoy, took a trip up the river a short distance and thence across to Carey to get the lay of the ground. It seems the track from here to Vesper and Arpin is to be torn up and the materials used in building the road connecting this city with the Lynn branch at Carey. If this is accomplished, which is now very probable, Pittsville will have two mails a day and will have direct connection with the Northwestern and the Green Bay roads as well as a much improved service on the St. Paul road.

The branch from here to Vesper and Arpin has never been a paying proposition consequently the intention of tearing it up.

If this proves to be correct Pittsville can be congratulated, since it will mean only a few years at most until we will be on a main line with through connections to northern as well as southern points.

Up to date Crawford county has paid bounty on 2,665 rattle snakes, which amounts to $1,332.50 since the first of the year. If the rate is kept up until the end of the snake killing season, which is about November 1st, it will be a record breaking year. It is claimed by snake hunters that the number of young reptiles this year greatly exceeds that of last, when they found many eggs but few little snakes and cannot be accounted for.—Crawford County Press.

One of the accomplishments of democratic administration of this government that all democrats are proud of is the establishment of rural free delivery of mail. The first move for rural mail delivery was made in congress by Representative L. F. Livingston, of Georgia, in 1892, but the republican majority defeated it, and it was not until 1896, under Postmaster General Wilson, democrat, that the first rural routes were established. During the years 1896—7 eighty-four rural routes were established. While democrats in congress were working to improve conditions for the common people of this country the republicans were busy plotting ship subsidy schemes of the shipping trust and tariff robbery of the steel trust, coal trust and all the others of the trust tribe.

Dancy Drainage Case.

Judge Silverthorn has rendered a decision in the Dancy drainage case. The case lasted about ten days and was concluded last Saturday. The court rendered a division against the report of the commissioners. This was done because Rice Lake and the Little Eau Pleine river were included in the district and its establishment meant the draining of both of these bodies of water, thus rendering it impossible to store logs in the lake or run them down the stream.

In denying the application for confirmation of the report of the commissioners, Judge Silverthorn stated that if means could be devised for draining the marsh without rendering the river unnavigable for log driving purposes he would be glad to approve it, but with the drainage plan as now proposed he could not do so.

Saves Two from Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attact of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Aamonk, N. Y., "but, when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and today she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for coughs and colds. 50c and $1 bottles guaranteed by Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

Two warm arms were clasped around his neck, a face wet with tears nestled for a moment on his shoulder, and she kissed him twice, with the live kisses that come from the heart of a woman whose affection has passed the mysterious border that separates friendship from love.

"Good-bye, John; God bless you and guard you!"

"Good-bye, Jessie; good-bye!"

He watched her as she faded away from him and disappeared beyond the vines which shaded the veranda.

Under the arched maples where he had walked with Jessie so many times, and down the sandy road where they had loitered in summer days now gone forever, John Burt urged the horse along. It was two miles to Peter Burt's, and he soon reached the gloomy old house. A figure stood by the gate. John rode forward and recognized his grandfather.

"You did well to come home, my boy," said the old man, whose deep, calm voice held an anxious note. "Something has happened, and my soul has been calling you since dark. Ride to the graveyard and I'll follow you. It isn't safe to talk here."

In the far corner of the old graveyard John Burt hitched his horse and turned to meet his grandfather. The old man seated himself on the grave of the pioneer Burt who, two hundred years before, had died the dangers of the wilderness.

"Now we can talk," he said. "Tell me what has happened."

Quickly John Burt related the incidents of the tragedy.

The old man made no sign during the recital, and was silent for minutes after John had ended.

"He deserved to die, and it was written that he should perish by violence; but his blood is not on your head," began the old man calmly. "Murder, in the sight of God, is in the heart not in the hand. I am——"

Peter Burt's voice broke, and a shudder swept over him; but he controlled himself, and continued:

"My boy, will you take your grandfather's advice?"

"I will, grandfather—I will!" replied John firmly.

"It is written in God's word: 'If thou faint in the day of adversity, thy strength is small; for a just man falleth seven times and riseth up again,'" said Peter Burt, laying his hand on John's shoulder. "God has willed that you shall be His instrument in great undertakings, and it is decreed that the events of today shall not be a stumbling-block to your feet. You are now to go out into the world, and though you may know it not, God will guide your footsteps. It were folly to imagine that this unprovoked quarrel points to your undoing. It is the sign that you are at once to depart from fields you have outgrown, to take up your work in that broader sphere which is waiting you. Something has whispered to me that you should go to California. To-day's event is the sign that you go now. You will start to-night, my boy, and God will be with you. Hush! I hear the hoofs of horses!"

The old man jumped to his feet. "Officers are coming!" he said in a low voice. "I will meet them. Remain here till I return. Hold that horse by the nose lest he whinny."

As John sprang to the horse's head, the old man vanished in the darkness.

Peter Burt entered the rear door of his house and was in his room when the tramp of steps was heard, followed by loud knocking. The old man waited awhile, as if dressing. He then lighted a lamp and stood in the hallway. The pounding had been repeated at intervals, and gruff voices were heard in impatient conversation.

"Who's there?" demanded the old man.

"We are officers of the law, Mr. Burt," a voice declared. "We are after John Burt, your grandson, who has killed a man."

"Have you a warrant for his arrest, or a search warrant?" demanded the old man. "Show me one at the window and I will open the door. If you have none, begone, and let me rest in peace."

A conference followed, and a gruff voice rose in anger.

"Let us in, old man." it thundered. "Warrant or no warrant, let us in, or by God we'll pound your door down and take you along with your murderin' grandson!"

"Open my door at your peril!" said Peter Burt sternly. "Show me your authority, and you can enter my house. This house is my castle, and no man has ever entered it without my consent."

Growling threats, the men retired. In a minute they returned, armed with a log. Used as a battering ram, it was hurled against the heavy oaken door. For a time the stout frame resisted, but with a crash the lamb gave way and the door flew open. With an oath and a call to his companion, the larger of the two rushed in.

As the man crossed the threshold the patriarch's left arm flew out, and the corded fingers gripped the reckless intruder by the throat. The second man hit the old farmer a stunning blow with the butt end of a revolver. With a catlike movement, Peter Burt wrenched his opponent's forearm. With a cry of pain the man dropped the weapon to the floor. Before he could guard himself Peter Burt dealt him a hard blow on the face and gripped him by the neck as he reeled against the wall.

Holding the two men at arm's length, Peter cracked their heads together, and then dragged them into the room, where the lamplight fell on their faces. The protruding tongue and the blood-surged face of the one who had let the charge cannon Peter Burt to relax his hold, and the man fell limp to the floor. A glance showed that his companion was senseless, and the old man stretched him out on the carpet.

Peter Burt produced a coil of rope from a closet, and with the dexterity of a sailor bound the senseless men. He then proceeded to revive them.

"I have not hanged you," said Peter Burt, as he stood over them, "for the reason that your cries would be of you no assistance. As soon as convenient, I will give you more comfortable quarters. Now that you are here, you may spend the night with me."

Seating himself at a desk, Peter Burt wrote two letters and sealed them. He then opened a huge, iron-bound chest, and for half an hour was busy with its contents. When his work was ended, he quitted the room without so much as a glance at the silent figures on the floor. John met him at the gateway.

"Here are your instructions, John," he said. "Go to your room and select such trifles as you can carry in your saddle-bags. You must make Plymouth before daybreak. This letter is addressed to a man in Plymouth. Here is a note. Show him this ring with the letter. Stay in his house all day, and start for New Bedford one of ten o'clock to-morrow night. You must arrive in New Bedford before daybreak, and go to the address on this letter. When you find it show Captain Horton the letter and the ring. He will put you on board the Seregansett, which sails for the South Pacific in three days from now. This third package you will not examine until well at sea. Here is money. Enter the house and make no unnecessary noise. I will saddle your horse and wait at the barn."

The sky was ablaze with lightning as John stood once more by the old man's side. The rumble of thunder told of the near approach of the tempest.

"John," said Peter Burt as he grasped the boy's hand in his, "I feel no sorrow save the pain of a temporary parting. I shall see you again, my boy; I shall clasp your hand in the vigor of your manhood, when success has crowned your efforts, and when your happiness is complete. Do not write to me or attempt to communicate with me, or with anyone, until you are rich and strong enough to meet your enemies on equal ground. During those coming years let money be your ambition. You live in an age when money is the god of the material world. Understanding has been granted to you, and when you apply yourself to the struggle the thrill of knowledge will pervade you. You have received a hint of this world's affairs, so that I can say to you in the language of Isaiah: 'I will give thee the treasures of darkness and the hidden riches of secret places.' Rest secure in that promise, have abiding faith in it, and hold no communication with those who love you until my prophecy has come to pass. Do you promise me, my boy?"

"I do, grandfather!" said John, who was deeply affected. "You have been so good——"

"Never mind, my boy; thank God, not me. Good-bye, John—God bless you!"

The first drops of the storm pattered on the dusty roadway as the old man raised his hands and gave John his blessing. Springing into the saddle, the boy caught one last glimpse of Peter Burt in a brilliant flash of lightning which glorified his heroic figure, his white hair shining as a halo above his brow.

It was four o'clock when he halted at a small house on the outskirts of Plymouth. Years before, with Peter Burt, he had visited the old sailor who was spending there his declining years. After repeated knocking, the old man opened the door. John handed him the letter and showed the ring. He read the letter and heartily greeted his guest.

"Enough said, my boy!" he declared, as he burned the letter. "You'll be as safe here as in God's pocket. Make yourself comfortable and I'll stow away your horse."

When the old man returned he prepared a breakfast which John ate with relish, and then his host showed him to a bed which, though hard, seemed the most delightful place he had found in years. The sun was low when John woke. The old sailor did not betray the slightest curiosity concerning John's journey, and at ten o'clock his guest bade him farewell with sincere thanks for his hospitality.

The night ride to New Bedford was made without incident. It was three o'clock when John knocked at Captain Horton's door; and, much to his surprise, that gruff old mariner was up and dressed.

"Come in! I've been expectin' ye!" he said as he opened the door. "Glad to meet ye, Joe," he said, turning to a sleepy-eyed boy, "take care of this lad's horse."

John secured the contents of the saddle-bags, and an hour later stepped on board the Seregansett. Captain Horton showed him his quarters and advised him to "turn in." He did so, and when he awoke the heaving and groaning of the old whaler told him that she was on the open sea.

Not until the Seregansett had left the Bermudas did John open the package which had been given to him by Peter Burt. It contained a long letter from the old man, describing a spot in the California mountains, of which a dying sailor had told him years before. The poor fellow declared that he had found a rich deposit of gold, and that he was working his way back to Boston, hoping to interest the necessary capital. In Peter Burt's letter was enclosed a rough map which the sailor had sketched when he realized that death stood in the way of his dreams of wealth.

There was also a parcel with an outer covering of oilskin. John unwrapped it and disclosed a large, old-fashioned wallet, which he recognized as having belonged to his grandfather. In this wallet he found a layer of United States Treasury notes of large denominations. His fingers tingled as he handled the notes. Ten thousand dollars! Jessie seemed much nearer as John looked at those bits of paper.

The scenes and incidents of that eighteen thousand mile journey around Cape Horn are worthy of extended recital, but are not an essential part of this narrative. One bright afternoon the Seregansett sailed into the harbor of Valparaiso, and a week later John Burt was a passenger on the steamer Reliance, bound for San Francisco.

A thousand leagues away, Jessie Carden treasured the secret of a sensation strangely akin to new-born love. On the walls of her class-room was a large map, and she loved to look at it and wonder what spot of land or sea held John Burt.

NEVER LOSE THEIR NERVE.

Popular Impression About Railroad Engineers Corrected.

"Specialties of railroad wrecks," said the commercial traveler in the smoking compartment of the Pullman car, "my observation leads me to believe they are due to the fact that the nerves of the engineers are brought to such a high tension after a number of bad accidents that they lose control of themselves."

"That's just where you are wrong," quietly said a gray haired man with a tanned, weather-beaten face, who sat near the window smoking a cigar. "I think you will all credit me with knowing what I am talking about, as I have been a railroad engineer for the last thirty years. I've run all kinds of engines, from a mine dummy to a hundred-ton passenger engine with a seven-foot wheel, and have railroaded on all the principal lines in the United States.

"The majority of people seem to have the idea that the engineer of a fast train is always in fear of run-ins and collisions, and that he is under such a nervous strain that he sometimes has to be lifted from the cab when he reaches the end of his run. That isn't so. An engineer has too many duties, such as watching his signals, keeping water in his boiler, and seeing that he is on schedule time, to have much time to worry himself about accidents that are likely to happen. As long as he pays the proper attention to his own train he knows that is all he can do, and that if anything goes wrong it is beyond his control. So he doesn't take up any of his time worrying. Accidents will happen, no matter how much care is taken to prevent them, and sometimes there can't be found any reason for them, but you may be sure that they are never caused through the engineer losing his nerve."

GLAD IT WASN'T HIS.

Auction Attendant Bid Cents When He Should Have Bid Dollars.

An out of town visitor stepped into an auction room the other day to see what sort of knickknacks were being sold. He did not know that the attendance was composed chiefly of professional buyers, and noted that it looked shabby.

"Now, I'll give your pocketbooks a rest," said the auctioneer. "Here is a simple little vase with China designs. What am I bid?"

He held up a dusty, diminutive piece of porcelain, which looked rather pretty through the dust.

"Five," said one.

"Ten," said a second.

"Fifteen," said the interested onlooker, jingling his available thirty-five cents in his pocket.

The little vase was bid up until the man from out of town reluctantly bid his thirty-five cents.

"I'll have to walk home," he reflected, "but it isn't far to the hotel. I don't see how these people make any money."

But the price soared up till the vase was finally knocked down to the last bidder at eighty.

Then the out of town man's knees were loosened, and his tongue cleaved to the roof of his mouth when he saw the purchaser nonchalantly hand over four twenty dollar bills—Chicago Inter Ocean.

An Unkind Question.

It was shortly after the house committee of the Democratic club promulgated a resolution that evening dress should be worn by members and visitors who dined or paid evening visits to the club, that Tom Dunn, the former sheriff, fell into a library arm chair one night.

Mr. Dunn's own garb would have passed muster at Marlborough House, so he looked around upon the throng in confidence and content.

There came a certain man of business to the club that night who wore an evening suit which was well-fitting, expensive, and correct in detail.

But he did not look comfortable. Pride kept him quiet for a few moments, at the end of which pride caused him to ask:

"How do you like it, Tom?"

"It's immense," said Dunn; "why don't you buy it?"—New York Telegraph.

Uncle Sam as Foster Mother.

A rural conscript during the civil war appeared before the board of enrollment and desired to be exempt that he might return to his country home.

"What are your claims?" asked the doctor.

"I am entirely dependent upon my mother for support," was the innocent reply.

The members of the board smiled, and the doctor replied.

"I am happy to assure you, my honest hearted friend, that the government is prepared to at once relieve your mother of so unsuitable a burden and assume your entire charge and expense during the next three years.

CAN SEE HIS DIRECTION.

Belgian's Device Expected to Be a Boon to Oarsmen.

New attractions are expected to be lent to rowing by the device of a Belgian which enables the oarsman to face in the direction the boat is moving. Rowing in the ordinary way has its disadvantages, as every one knows who has suddenly bumped into another boat or some other obstruction. The Belgian invention is designed to obviate the necessity of turning the head in order to see that the course is clear.

The movements of the oarsman are the same as if he were rowing with his back to the bow. Each oar is in two parts, jointed and fitted to the oarlock, the parts being connected with each other by a sector, or toothed gear, working between two plates furnished with axles, upon which the sectors hinge, the plates being adjusted to the locks. The inventor of the system is D. Boyen of Brussels.

In addition to enabling the oarsman to see at all times where he is going, the device of the jointed oars is said to permit of much greater force with less exertion.

Grecian Sisters Fight Duel.

All fashionable Athens is gossiping about a sensational occurrence which took place a short time ago in the family of a wealthy Greek merchant. A handsome young Englishman was one of the parties concerned. The Englishman, who was on intimate terms with the merchant's family, had unwittingly captured the hearts of the two pretty daughters of the house. Some preference shown by the son of Albion for the younger maiden led to an embittered quarrel, which culminated in a duel. After the family had retired to rest, the girls rose from their beds, and taking their brothers' swords, proceeded in their nightgowns to the garden. There in the moonlight they began to fight. Fortunately for the fair duellists, their weapons were too heavy to be wielded with much effect, and when one sister, slightly wounded in the breast, shrieked, their father came on the scene and stopped the duel.

Oil Tree of China.

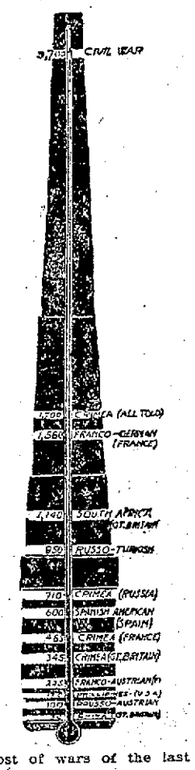

Five years ago the attention of American importers was called to the value as an astringent and drier in varnish, for the finer kinds of furniture, of the product of the Chinese wood oil tree.

Since then two American firms have established branches at Hankow, China, for the exportation of the oil, and one of them has shipped nearly 200,000 gallons since last fall. Because of the fact that no barrels are manufactured in the province where the oil tree grows, a Hankow firm has imported from New York shooks for 5,000 barrels and machinery for setting them up. About a thousand seeds of the oil tree have been planted in California and are doing well.—Manufacturers' Record.

Old-Time Postal Service.

John Merrill of Milford, N. H., while examining an old trunk came across a letter dated from some place in Maine 1704. It had no envelope and was originally fastened with a piece of sticking plaster. It bears marks of three postmen, the first was 35 miles from any postoffice, and it cost 18½ cents to deliver it to Nathan Merrill in Milford.

Teach Children Love of Flowers.

There is in a suburb of Vienna a unique horticultural institution which might be advantageously copied in this country. The idea on which it is founded is to encourage children to take an interest in flowers and trees. About 750 children attend regularly, and this year they have planted 2,000 trees and plants. At the end of the year prizes are distributed to the children whose plants have been best cared for.

Plague of Mice in Australia.

South Australia is said to be suffering with a great invasion of mice. The cause is the recent bad weather, which caused more or less of a failure of the wheat crop, and the farmers allowed much grain to remain in the fields. This fell to the ground in time, and so furnished much food for the mice.

Dog Had Lucky Escape.

A setter dog which ran under an electric car at Exeter, N. H., escaped with the loss of two teeth, despite the fact that the motors hang within four inches of the ground.

LARGEST IRRIGATION ENTERPRISE IN AMERICA.

The Twin Falls Land and Water Company, located on the Snake river, twenty-four miles south of Shoshone station, the largest irrigation enterprise in America, involving an expenditure of over two million dollars and reclaiming two hundred and seventy five thousand acres of the richest valley lands in the state of Idaho, is now practically completed and will be delivering water on the lands within the next sixty to ninety days. The main canal, sixty-nine miles long, is eighty feet wide at the bottom, one hundred and twenty-four feet at the top and carries ten feet of water. The project is being constructed under the Carey act, and comes under the immediate supervision of the Idaho State Land Board. Last fall the Land Board authorized the opening of 30,000 acres of this land to public entry, and notwithstanding the fact that no water would be delivered this year, all of this land has been absorbed. The State Land Board now authorizes the opening of an additional 100,000 acres at noon, October 20th, at Twin Falls City, and a great rush is expected. Mr. Masqueray, chief of designs of buildings and grounds at the World's Fair, St. Louis, has designed a hotel and townsite known as Twin Falls City, in the heart of these lands, and a $50,000 hotel is now under construction, besides numerous business blocks and residences. Over $60,000 worth of town lots have been sold within the past sixty days. The Oregon Short Line, at an early date, will begin the construction of a branch line from Minidoka through the heart of these lands to the new town of Twin Falls City.

NO VENISON IN HIS.

One Man Who Likes It Well Enough, but Prefers Roast Beef.

"Where I stayed in the Adirondacks this season," said a returned summer boarder, "we had, after the deer season opened, venison twice a day. I ate it just once, and then I cut it out.

"It was good venison, and nicely cooked and nicely served, but as a matter of honest fact I'm not much stuck on venison; it doesn't seem to me to have much taste anyway.

"I can imagine that venison from a deer that a man had shot himself might taste very good to him—very good. In eating it he would have the pride of the hunter in being able to provide for himself, and after the hard work and exposure of hunting he would have the appetite of forty-seven mules. Venison cooked at a campfire under such circumstances would taste very good. But on a hotel table? Not for me.

"I may lack sporting blood, and I may lack the taste of a really and truly epicure, but I have no great hankering for venison. I like it well enough, but as between venison and roast beef, why, give me roast beef."

Sure Cure at Last.

Monticello, Miss., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Lawrence County is almost daily in receipt of fresh evidence that a sure cure for all Kidney Troubles has at last been found, and that cure is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Among those who have reason to bless the Great American Kidney Remedy is Mrs. L. E. Baggett of this place. Mrs. Baggett had Dropsy. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her.

"I was troubled with my kidneys," Mrs. Baggett says in recommending Dodd's Kidney Pills to her friends, "my urine would hardly pass. The doctors said I had Dropsy. I have taken Dodd's Kidney Pills as directed and am now a well woman."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the kidneys. Cured Kidneys strain all the impurities out of the blood. That means pure blood and a sound, energetic body. Dodd's Kidney Pills are the greatest tonic the world has ever known.

Sound Obscured by Sense.

"In course of a Southern tour," said John D. Rockefeller Jr., "I attended church one Sunday morning in a quaint little wooden meeting house where the pews were of unpainted pine boards.

"The minister was a good man, a sincere man, a really eloquent man, but he had an unfortunate habit of bellowing. He bellowed like a bull. His voice shook the rafters. The sound overwhelmed the sense, and it was often impossible, for very noise, to get at the man's meaning.

"He was especially loud during the prayer. I never heard such an uproar as filled the little building while this Southern minister prayed. After he was through a little girl on my left gave a sigh of relief, and I heard her whisper to her father:

"'Father, don't you think that if he lived nearer to God he wouldn't have to talk so loud?'"

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains 16 oz.—one full pound—while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in ¾-pound packages, and the price is the same, 10 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from all injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12-oz. package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. He knows that Defiance Starch has printed on every package in large letters and figures "16 ozs." Demand Defiance and save much time and money and the annoyance of the iron sticking. Defiance never sticks.

Gained Ground on Famous Tackle.

W. W. Hefelfinger, formerly a mighty football player, was driving along Hennepin avenue, Minneapolis, the other morning, when he heard a runaway horse approaching. The frightened animal was attached to a buggy in which sat a screaming woman. "Pudge," as his friends call him, jumped from his own conveyance, handed the reigns to a passer-by and waited for the runaway. As the animal lunged past the football player made a splendid tackle, securing a hold on the throatlatch, and brought the horse to a standstill inside half a block. Then he drove away, quietly remarking: "That's the first time anything gained so much ground after I had tackled it."

If laziness is a disease, as some contend, there should be no trouble about dealing with it, as long as it has such an excellent antitoxin to kill its germ as work.

If you don't get the biggest and best it's your own fault. Defiance Starch is for sale everywhere and there is positively nothing to equal it in quality or quantity.

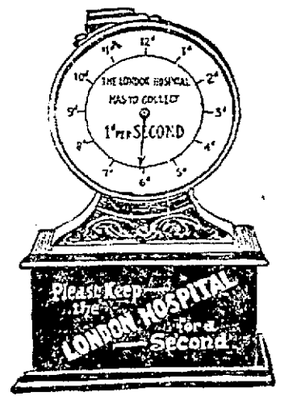

Anyway, Eve wasn't constantly nagging Adam about other women.

APPEALS TO THE CHARITABLE.

London Hospital's Effective Method of Soliciting Contributions.

London hospital, the biggest of all the great city's charitable institutions for afflicted humanity, always has been famed for its ingenious methods of appealing to public support, but its latest device surpasses them all and doubtless will be copied in America.

It is in the form of a clock, on the face of which appears the announcement that the hospital has to collect one penny—two cents—per second, and on the pedestal is an invitation to the visitor to defray the cost of the institution for that brief period. When the penny is dropped in the slot it sets some internal mechanism in operation by which the clock hand is advanced and the contribution recorded.

The secretary hopes shortly to add a phonograph to the machine, which will acknowledge every gift with a hearty "Thank you," the voice being that of the King.

FOR SERVICE AGAINST MOBS

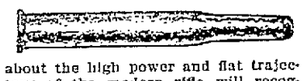

New Cartridge Served Out to New York National Guards.

The new cartridge for riot duty is nearly ready for the National Guard, says the New York Press. It is of the calibre of the Krag-Jorgensen rifle, which is .30, and will be used by the guardsmen in that rifle. This new riot ammunition is called the "multiball" cartridge, because instead of having only one bullet it has two, a trifle larger than buckshot. When fired they will scatter, and a volley of them will make a mob think it is facing shrapnel.

The range of these riot cartridges is only about 300 yards, as against 2,000 yards and more of the regular bullet. It is practically the range of the old musket of the Revolutionary days.

Any one who knows anything about the high power and flat trajectory of the modern rifle will recognize the humaneness of the new cartridges. With the regulation bullet, even of the old Springfield, persons remote from the scene of rioting were often killed by the long flight of the missile. The ricocheting of the ball along the hard pavement has led to casualties blocks away from the scene of the fighting.

Printed by Franklin.

Dr. James H. Canfield, librarian of Columbia University, has just received a valuable addition to the collection of Americana, says the New York Sun. It is a translation of Cicero's "Cato Major; or, De Senectute." The book was printed by Benjamin Franklin in Philadelphia in 1874. It bears the autograph of Thomas Heyward, Jr., one of the South Carolina signers of the Declaration of Independence, and it was written by James Logan, chief justice of the Province of Pennsylvania, in the early part of the eighteenth century.

In the opinion of Franklin, the book is the earliest translation of a classic in the Western Hemisphere. The volume opens with an introduction by Franklin, entitled "The Printer to the Reader."

First Wedding in Old Church.

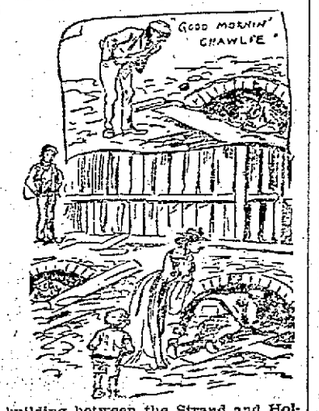

For the first time since it was erected thirty-eight years ago, the Union church at Big Cranberry island, Me., was the scene of a wedding last week. And even then the contracting young people were from Massachusetts, though the island was the girlhood home of the bride.

Ran Into Big School of Mackerel.

Schooner Normahal recently arrived at Gloucester with the exceptionally fine fare of 327 barrels of salt mackerel. The remarkable feature of the catch is that the whole fare was taken at one setting of the seine from the biggest school that Capt. Parsons ever saw. The net itself gave way under the enormous strain and fully as many fish were lost as were taken.

London Cave-Dwellers.

The London police made a discovery the other day on the land that has lately been opened up for rebuilding between the Strand and Holborn—the site of Gen. Booth's temporary barracks. The cellars of the old houses had not been demolished, and many men and boys retired to them, and, with bundles of old newspapers and newspaper bills to serve as pillows, used to sleep comfortably till the morning. The police found out what was going on, and now the cellars are no longer used as bedrooms.

CHIMNEY SOOT OF VALUE.

One of the Richest Fertilizers Known—Kills Insects.

Chimney soot, says the American Fertilizer, is one of the richest fertilizers known. That from coal is very rich in ammonia. When coal is burned, ammonia is set free, and during the various changes which take place during the process sulphate and carbonate of ammonia are both formed.

Soot is a highly compound substance, containing in its composition not only ammonia, but lime, sulphuric acid, nitric acid, acetic acid, chlorine and iron, nearly all of which are valuable, directly or indirectly. The value of soot is well known in England, where it sells for about £10 a ton, or about $48. It is often thrown away as worthless by those who do not know its value, but careful farmers should save every ounce for use. Sprinkled around some kind of plants, it often prevents attacks from insects, and the rains then carry it down into the earth, where it does duty as a fertilizer. Soot from coal has been once thought to be a very worthless substance, but experience and science have taught us to know better.

Funny Boy.

"Let's see; 'N. B.' means 'take notice,' doesn't it, pa?" remarked the bright little boy.

"Yes, my son; now, what are you driving at?"

"And when the servant girl in N. G. that means for mamma to 'give notice,' doesn't it?"

Every housewife gloats over finely starched linen and white goods. Conceit is justifiable after using Defiance Starch. It gives a stiff, glossy whiteness to the clothes and does not rot them. It is absolutely pure. It is the most economical because it goes farthest, does more and costs less than others. To be had of all grocers at 16 oz. for 10c.

The Retrospective Person.

He never thinks a man is truly great until he's dead;
And then he wipes away a tear and quotes what he has said.
He talks about the nations that long since have passed away,
And mourns when he compares them with the nations of to-day.

He talks about his boyhood and the fun that folks had then;
He talks about the actors and we ne'er shall see again.
He vows that everything worth while long since has gone before,
And life to him is just one grand, sweet funeral—nothing more.

MISUNDERSTOOD

BY THOMAS G. FESSENDEN

Cobden had done the thing in his usual masterful way. He had invaded the little group in the corner, taken Evelyn by the arm, and, with a laughing apology to the others, he had led her away. As the orchestra on the palm-embowered platform launched into a Strauss waltz, Cobden led the way to a corner of the veranda. Before them the trim lawn of the Suburban club lay smooth and level in the faint moonlight.

Cobden studied the moonlit vista for several moments in contemplative silence. He drew a cigarette from his case, but suddenly threw it unlighted over the rail. He laughed nervously. The girl laid her hand lightly on his arm.

"Bob," she said, "you've seemed rather queer to-night. What's the matter?"

"Rattled," he replied laconically.

"Nonsense!" she laughed. "That's not in your line."

"Not generally, I'll admit," he said. "To-night, however, it's a fact. I'm about to do something I've never done before—something of vital importance to me. It's got on my nerves."

"It must be something awful," she said lightly.

"Horrible," he acquiesced. "I'm about to propose."

He leaned toward her in his chair.

"To you," he supplemented.

The girl gasped and stared at him in speechless amazement.

"I wanted to do it nicely—to say a lot of pretty things, but honestly I am rattled. Evelyn, for heaven's sake say you'll marry me!" he blurted out.

She drew away from him. Her eyes opened wide.

"Bob," she said in a queer little voice. Then she sprang from the chair.

"O, no, no, no!" she cried.

Cobden looked at her helplessly. He groped blindly for words to express himself. The expression came finally in the shape of an inarticulate groan.

"I knew it," he said with pathetic conviction. "I'm not half worthy of you. I had no business to suppose you cared; still, I was idiot enough to hope you might."

The girl was standing by the rail, her head turned from him.

"It isn't that. I do care," she said.

He rose from his chair and stood beside her.

"Then—then Evelyn you will——"

"No," she said.

Cobden squared his shoulders.

"Why not?" he said with quiet force.

"Because—O, Bobby, because you are mistaken," she said, "and it isn't fair to you."

"Why not?" he persisted in the same tone.

"Well, for one thing, I'm old, you foolish boy."

"I'm not exactly a nestling myself," said he.

"And you shan't marry me out of pity," she declared.

"Pity?" he said in amazement.

"Yes, that's just what you are doing," she said. "O, I read you like a book, sir. You have always been so good and thoughtful and tender-hearted. And now that I have passed through innumerable seasons and am growing somewhat passe, you come forward and offer yourself in sacrifice."

"I do nothing of the sort," said he. "I ask you because I love you, as I always have loved you."

The girl laughed gently.

"Bobby, dear, you can't fool women in some things," she said. "You have never really cared. If you did, why weren't you ever jealous of me? Why did you let all my little affairs of the heart go on with never a murmur from you? Men are not silent when they really care. Neither do they watch another man's suit with equanimity. It's because I'm growing old and because I am no longer sought after that

"Oh, no, no, no!" she cried.

you ask me now—you dear, brave, generous boy!"

"Evelyn," he said, "are you crazy?"

She shook her head.

"No. Very, very sane," she said.

"Look here," said he. "I staid away and gave those other chaps the field because I never supposed I mattered a pennyworth to you. I staid away because, above all else, I wanted you to be happy.

She smiled knowingly.

"Oh, you delightful old sham," she said.

"It's not a sham, Evelyn," Cobden said. "And there are lots of other things that haven't been shams, either. It wasn't a sham when I used to walk the streets half the night, eating out my heart with a jealousy I never felt the right to express. It wasn't a sham when I packed off to the woods that time when your engagement to Dean was announced. Ev, I used to envy every squirrel I shot."

"Did you really care so much?" she said. She was scanning his face eagerly.

"I wish I might make you understand how I have cared," he said simply.

"Bob," she said slowly, "I broke my engagement with Dean when you came back from the woods that time because I knew then I could never be

"Did you really care so much?"

happy with anyone but you. But I never dreamed you really cared."

"I wanted you to be happy," he said. "I didn't want to pain you by letting you know I had grown to care."

"It was like you"—her hands on his shoulders—"to be generous—far too generous."

Cobden laughed gaily.

"Rest assured I never shall be again," said he.

"I think I shall like you better if you're more selfish," she confided.—Thomas G. Fessenden in Boston Globe.

WHISTLER AND THE KING.

Monarch's Claim of Acquaintanceship Declared to Be Brag.

Clyde Fitch, after a long stay in Switzerland, has returned to his country house in Connecticut. He said there the other day:

"Anecdotes of Whistler are still turning up. Europe, from one end to the other, still hums with the dead American painter's name. But it was in Paris that I heard the best Whistler story.

"They told me that Whistler was in Paris at the time of the coronation of the King of England, and one evening at a reception at the Hotel Ritz, a duchess said to him:

"'Do you know King Edward, Mr. Whistler?'

"'No, madame,' said the painter.

"She looked surprised.

"'Why, that is odd,' she murmured, 'I met the King at a dinner party last year, and he said that he knew you.'

"'Oh,' said Whistler, 'that was only his brag.'"

Show for Sightseers.

When President Roosevelt was going from Oyster Bay to Washington recently he and his party passed through Thirty-fourth street, the chief executive bowing and smiling to those who saluted him.

As the mounted policemen who rode ahead reached Thirty-fourth street a big automobile with sightseers drew up on the north side of the street to let the carriages pass.

Suddenly the man with the megaphone yelled out:

"Ladies and Gentlemen: Here comes the president of the United States. I was one of his Rough Riders and arranged it with him to get here at the same time as this machine. You see we are strictly up to date."

The passengers grinned, but the grin changed to a puzzled expression when, as the barker shouted, "Hello, Colonel; you see I'm on deck," the president bowed and smiled cordially. They were not aware that he would do the same to any one who had the nerve to salute him as did the bogus Rough Rider.

Discipline Strictly Enforced.

Gen. Charles Miller of Franklin, Pa., on a very hot day in camp at Somerset ordered the adjutant to see that all the men maintained a soldierly bearing. "See that they wear their blouses buttoned," he said. The guard was duly notified of the order. About 10 p. m. Gen. Miller had occasion to go through the lines, and he sauntered along with his coat open. "Halt!" said the guard. When the astonished officer obeyed, the sentry said with a poorly concealed grin: "Button up your blouse, general." And he did it.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Aristocrats Travel Incognito.

It is said that in the past twelve months numerous European men of title have visited this country under assumed names, and the fact is explained in this way: When they come here the practice has been to associate them with a matrimonial venture. This is distasteful to those who are innocent of any intent to pick up an American heiress and fatal to those who really have such plans. Once put the tag "Fortune Hunter" on a bum baron or a spavined duke and his plans are ruined. For these reasons many of the members of the European aristocracy come over incognito.

IN GREAT DISTRESS

VOMITING SPELLS LONG RESISTED EVERY EFFORT TO CHECK.

Mrs. Brooks Became So Weak She Thinks She Would Have Died But For Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mrs. Sarah L. Brooks, of No. 45 Lincoln Park, Chicago, Illinois, gives the following account of her cure from distressing spells of vomiting:

"For five years off and on I was treated in vain by different doctors for relief from a stomach trouble which showed itself in frequent and trying spells of vomiting. Part of the time I was able to work, and again I would be confined to bed for three or four days in succession.

"My stomach was at times so delicate that it would not retain even plain water. The spells would sometimes occur at intervals of half an hour, and would leave me so weak that I would be compelled to lie down between them. I would have several of them during the night following a day of such attacks. Finally I became so weakened that I had to give up working altogether. I weighed only ninety-four pounds.

"Last January I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People in one of the Chicago daily papers and bought a box and began to use them. After I had used half a box I found that I could keep on my stomach the food I ate. I was encouraged by this and kept on using the pills for four months. At the end of that time the vomiting spells had ceased altogether and my weight went up to 142 pounds and is still growing.

"I think I surely would have died if it had not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for I sometimes vomited clear blood, and for three or four days at a time I could not eat a bite of anything. One doctor said I had chronic inflammation of the stomach, and another said my difficulty was a cancer, but none of their medicines did me any good at all. Finally I concluded that I did not have blood enough to digest my food, and I began the treatment that has cured me. I can eat anything now, and have strength for all kinds of work. I always keep Dr. Williams' Pink Pills on hand, and I recommend them to my friends because I know they cured me."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills agree with the most delicate stomachs and strengthen the digestive organs until they do their work perfectly. They are sold by all druggists.

Birch Wood Makes Best Fire.

The logs in the fireplace were so magnificent that the visitor at first thought them artificial. They were of birch, and each was about as long and as thick as a ten-year-old boy. Their bark was white, and here and there upon this snowy bark appeared clear yellow and green patches of dried moss.

"What beautiful logs," said the visitor. "Will they burn well?"

"Burn well? I should say so," cried the host. "Why, don't you know that birch is the only safe wood to burn in a fireplace?"

"I thought all woods were safe."

"Well, you thought wrong. Every wood but birch crackles in burning, and throws out sparks. These sparks, some little and some big, shoot into the room, burn holes in the carpet, and, very often, set the house on fire. But birch never throws a spark. It burns down steadily and silently to a white ash, never hissing, never crackling, never spattering.

"Get birch for your fireplace. It is the most beautiful and the safest wood to burn in grates."

Wind in Wires a Barometer.

The telegraph operator pulled up his horse.

"Hark!" he said.

The wind in the roadside wires gave forth a shrill sound, a note menacing and sad.

"Do you hear that?" the man asked. "That is the sign of a violent storm. Whenever you hear it, look out for weather troubles—a snow squall in the winter; a terrible downpour, with a thunder and lightning accompaniment, in the summer.

"The sound of the wind in the wires makes a good barometer. I have used it as a barometer for two years, and it hasn't failed me once. A scientist from Germany told me about it. He said that the variations in this sound were due to the expansion and contraction of the wires that changing atmospheric conditions caused.

"A deep or bass sound of considerable strength means showery weather within twenty-four hours. A shrill sound, as I said before, means violent storms. A mild hum means continued clear.

"Now, we'll drive on.

"Git up thar!"

CAN DRINK TROUBLE.

That's one way to get it.

Although they won't admit it many people who suffer from sick headaches and other ails get them straight from the coffee they drink and it is easily proved if they're not afraid to leave it to a test as in the case of a lady in Connellsville.

"I had been a sufferer from sick headaches for twenty-five years and anyone who has ever had a bad sick headache knows what I suffered. Sometimes three days in the week I would have to remain in bed, at other times I couldn't lie down the pain would be so great. My life was a torture and if I went away from home for a day I always came back more dead than alive.

"One day I was telling a woman my troubles and she told me she knew that it was probably coffee caused it. She said she had been cured by stopping coffee and using Postum Food Coffee and urged me to try this food drink.

"That's how I came to send out and get some Postum and from that time I've never been without it for it suits my taste and has entirely cured all of my old troubles. All I did was to leave off the coffee and tea and drink well-made Postum in its place. This change has done me more good than everything else put together.

"Our house was like a drug store for my husband bought everything he heard of to help me without doing any good, but when I began on the Postum my headaches ceased and the other troubles quickly disappeared. I have a friend who had an experience just like mine and Postum cured her just as it did me.

"Postum not only cured the headaches, but my general health has been improved, and I am much stronger than before. I now enjoy delicious Postum more than I ever did coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason" and it's worth finding out.

THOUGHT SHE WOULD DIE.

Mrs. S. W. Marine, of Colorado Springs, Began to Fear the Worst. Doan's Kidney Pills Saved Her.

Mrs. Sarah Marine, of 428 St. Urain St., Colorado Springs, Colo., President of the Glen Eyrie Club, writes:

"I suffered for three years with severe backache. The doctors told me my kidneys were affected and prescribed medicines for me, but I found it was only a waste of time and money to take them, and began to fear that I would never get well. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. Within a week after I began using them I was so much better that I decided to keep up the treatment, and when I had used a little over two boxes I was entirely well. I have now enjoyed the best of health for more than four months, and words can but poorly express my gratitude."

He Was a Scientific Horse.

Canon MacColl told the London Times that a friend of the Canon's once shared the box seat with the driver of a stage coach in Yorkshire, and, being a lover of horses, talked with the coachman about his team. One horse in particular he admired.

"Ah," said the coachman, "but that 'oss ain't as good as he looks. He's a scientific 'oss."

"A scientific horse!" exclaimed the Canon's friend. "What on earth do you mean by that?"

"I means," replied the coachman, "a 'oss as thinks he knows a great deal more nor he does."

OLD LANDMARK TORN DOWN.

Picturesque English Windmill Too Much Behind the Times.

Picturesque old windmills still survive on the east coast of England where the country is flat and the wind goes blowing along with that unobstructed freedom which is so exhilarating in the Fens. Now the king of them all has gone. A day or two ago, at Great Yarmouth, the famous High Tower windmill, the highest in England, it is said, was sold for demolition. It cost $50,000 to build in 1812. It served as a landmark far and wide, its cap being 120 feet from the ground. Circular in form, the mill contained no fewer than twelve floors. Its walls are several feet thick, and are estimated to contain hundreds of thousands of bricks. It was sold for $500 under the hammer. These mills have done plenty of work in their day, and many of them have made fortunes for their owners, but steam and roller milling have made them an anachronism, and today they are no more than a quaint reminder of the days of our grandfathers and days before that.

IRON TURNED INTO COPPER.

Simple Explanation of What at First Appears Remarkable.

A curious find was recently made in one of the copper mines at El Cobre, Cuba. These mines, once among the richest in the world, have been abandoned for over thirty years, because during the Cuban insurrection of 1868 the coal supply was cut off by the insurgents, and consequently pumping became impossible, so that the mines filled with water. After the Spanish war an American company bought the mines and proceeded to pump out the water. In one of the shafts thus made accessible was found what once represented an iron pickaxe as well as some crowbars. The metal in these implements had, however, turned to copper.

Wonderful as this may appear, there is a simple scientific explanation. The water filtering through the rocks and the copper ore veins dissolved some of the copper, the solution containing sulphate of copper. As the sulphuric acid has a greater affinity for iron it at once dissolved that metal and deposited copper in its place, for sulphuric acid has a greater affinity for iron than for copper. In the process certain impurities which had existed in the iron were left behind undisturbed. The wooden handle of the axe was in good condition. The metal was porous and irregular in shape, but in the general outlines preserved the form of the axe somewhat enlarged in size.

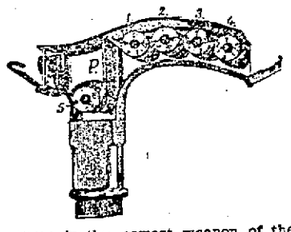

Odd Relics Are Unearthed.

Since so much excavation has been done in New York of late, particularly for the subway and other railroad tunnels, a great number of historic relics have been discovered by laborers. The most recent find was a medal for bravery presented to one Thomas Sampson, who was a member of the metropolitan police force fifty years ago, and a famous federal spy during the civil war. The medal, which is a gold one, was given to the officer for life-saving heroism. This fact is stated on one side of the medal while on the other is the figure of a ship in distress and on the shore two men are attempting to throw a life line to the wrecked mariners. Sampson was one of the body guards to Lincoln during his first inauguration and took part in the search for the plotters who were responsible for his assassination.

Dog Was Wealthy in Own Right.

The richest dog, in his own right, that ever lived died at West Chester, Pa., in 1888. He had been the pet of Mrs. Elizabeth Shee, who died two or three years before him, and left in her will the sum of $1,500 for his support as long as he should live. At his death the money was to go to St. Peter's Episcopal Church of Tredyffryn township, but before the church could get the money it was stipulated the dog was to be decently buried, wrapped in a sheet for a shroud and placed in a coffin made specially for the reception of his body. Unlike most famous dogs, this one was neither good looking nor well bred, being a mongrel of the lowest type, sulky and stupid withal.

New Scheme in Business.

A novel scheme for getting orders is to send out a bale of goods, prepaid on receipt of a dollar. As the goods cost the seller but a trifle more than a dollar he will dispense with order wagons, drivers of which have gone about town getting orders for provisions every morning and will supply housekeepers with printed cards, upon which these orders may be written, and if mailed at night will be filled early the next morning.

BARDSEY AND ITS "KING."

Isolated Community in North Wales Ruled by Monarch.

About a mile distant from the rocky promontory of Braich-y-Pwll, the extreme westerly point of North Wales, lies the Island of Bardsey, the home of a singularly isolated community. The island is the property of Lord Newborough, and was a favorite resort of the third baron, grandfather and predecessor in the title of the present peer. At that period the island was even more remote and out of the way than at present. Communication with Pwllheli was infrequent and uncertain. Consequently the Bardsey folk formed an entirely independent community, forced by circumstances to conduct their own affairs without special reference to the laws of the country. Lord Newborough instituted the office of "king." Selecting from the islanders one of superior parts and character, he invested him with the general authority which he himself possessed as landlord, bidding the rest to obey his ruling, abide by his decisions in case of dispute, and in general respect his authority. Partly in jest, partly to strengthen his viceregent's position, he conferred upon that worthy the title of "King of Bardsey," and bestowed upon him a crown a treasure and an army. The "crown" was a gorgeous diadem of brass, wondrously embossed and wrought; the "treasure" a silver casket brought from Italy, and the "army" a wooden figure painted to represent a soldier.

Adopt English Words.

The English word "bus" has been adopted by the Parisians, as they have the word "lunch." In a recent play one of the characters says: "On luncherait en famille." Now the Parisians will be saying "Je vais busser." "Hall," "garden party" and many other English words are used by French writers without quotation marks.

Many women are denied the happiness of children through derangement of the generative organs. Mrs. Beyer advises women to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered with stomach complaint for years. I got so bad that I could not carry my children but five months, then would have a miscarriage. The last time I became pregnant, my husband got me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking the first bottle I was relieved of the sickness of stomach, and began to feel better in every way. I continued its use and was enabled to carry my baby to maturity. I now have a nice baby girl, and can work better than I ever could before. I can like a new woman."—Mrs. FRANK BEYER, 22 S. Second St., Meriden, Conn.

Another case which proves that no other medicine in the world accomplishes the same results as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was married for five years and gave birth to two premature children. After that I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it changed me from a weak, nervous woman to a strong, happy and healthy wife within seven months. Within two years a lovely little girl was born, who is the pride and joy of my household. If every woman who is cured feels as grateful and happy as I do, you must have a host of friends, for every day I bless you for the light, health and happiness Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought to my home. Sincerely yours, MRS. MAE P. WHARRY, Flat 31, The Norman, Milwaukee, Wis."

Cause of Lockjaw.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the fair, but when carried beneath the skin as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes cuts, bruises and like injuries to heal without maturation and in one third the time required by the usual treatment. Otto's Pharmacy.

CHRONIC DISEASES
Successfully treated by the latest scientific method as practiced in the principals hospitals of Europe and America.
Consultation and Examination Free. Many leading citizens will testify to the successful results obtained during the several years of my practice in Grand Rapids.
NO SUFFERER NEED DESPAIR.
I have cured hundreds. Why need you suffer? All cases of Stomach and Bowel Trouble quickly cured. A month's trial of my special remedies will convince those afflicted.
Kidney and Bladder Diseases receive a new and most successful treatment.
I have the greatest success in treating Nervous Diseases, Epilepsy (commonly called Fits) and Chorea (St. Vitus Dance) promptly yield in the great majority of cases to my special treatment.
PILES quickly cured without the use of the knife, painlessly and with no detention from business on the part of the patient.
THE AGE DEMANDS A SPECIALIST
Who is fitted through special studies in his laboratories and investigation in the largest medical centers in the world to offer afflicted humanity a reasonable guarantee that they will be CURED, not temporarily relieved or stimulated, but CURED TO STAY CURED.
CURE IS GUARANTEED IN EVERY CASE ACCEPTED
In adopting the most modern medical methods, I have not abandoned CLEAN MEDICAL PRACTICE but am ever ready to sacrifice purely commercial gain if in any way I can help my patient more rapidly or more certainly to health.
Men's Diseases I have devised a special treatment as the result of my investigation in Europe as well as in America, that insures immediate relief and a permanent cure in cases of Varicocele, Hydrocele, Weakening Losses, Gonorrhea, Gleet, Blood Poison, inherited or acquired, and all diseases resulting from early excesses or indiscretions. Men suffering from chronic diseases who do not get well will be surprised and delighted by a trial of my special treatment for nervous weakness, as physical, mental and business welfare depends on your nervous vitality. Let me make you a man again.
CONSITPATION PREMANENTLY CURED
Diseases of the Liver.—How many sick people in every community, due to this important organ's inaction. The greatest laboratory in our body abused and neglected. Let me help you to get this "workshop" going again. My treatment gives unfailing and prompt relief in these cases.
Woman's Diseases I have been a patient student of the many diseases afflicting womankind. I owe that time and again her life and the most charming attributes of her sex are sacrificed to the surgeons knife, cruelly and needlessly. I have the pleasure of being able to announce to this class of sufferers that I have perfected a plan of treatment that will within five days demonstrate to any woman its power to cure the most difficult and distressing case.
My charges are always reasonable and never more than you will be willing to pay for successful treatment. I practice no schemes to invite confidence and refer to my several years of successful honorable practice in your midst as a guarantee of fair and square dealing.

The family man,
The family man.
Of all the men to adore
Is the man who can sit,
With his toes turning in,
Caring for children four.

The family man,
The family man,
The pride of the men I know,
Is the man when one twin
Is pulling his chin
Gives all the rest a show.

The family man,
The family man,
Is only a foolish cub,
If when tending the kids,
Getting kicked in the ribs,
His wife is at the club.
